

MANHATTAN TREASURY HUNT—Detectives and policemen line up to search the site of a demolished building on Manhattan's West Side, Tuesday, for jewels from a $3 million holdup of a diamond district messenger wagon, Nov. 8. Police said workers at the site may have hidden some jewels there after they took them from the vehicle which the getaway driver abandoned when he couldn't operate the manual gear shift. Police have recovered most of the loot, which was the biggest jewel theft in U.S. history.

Ships Collide; Five Hurt At Cape Cod Canal Gateway

Freighters Joined Together By Impact

BUZZARDS BAY, Mass. (AP)—The 6,732-ton freighter Fernview, out of Oslo, Norway, and the coastal tanker Dynafuel collided early today 10 miles from the southern entrance to Cape Cod Canal. Five men on the tanker were injured as she was swept by fire for four hours.

The 3,100-ton tanker, less than half the size of the freighter, was sliced in her port side stern and both vessels locked together.

Christmas Seal Drive Opens Friday

The 1963 Christmas Seal Campaign will open here Friday.

The general mailing of Christmas Seals to Pettis County residents will be made soon, officials said. Proceeds of the campaign will be used by the Pettis County Tuberculosis Association to combat tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases. As previously announced by Mrs. Betty Murrell, president of the County Association, eight thousand Pettis County school children and personnel are expected to receive free tuberculin tests early in 1964 from the proceeds of TB Seals in our community.

Maurice Hogan, Christmas Seal chairman, says, "Now Ann Landers is writing me for help." Ann Landers, whose column appears in 537 newspapers from coast to coast among which is The Sedalia Democrat—Capital, succeeds Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of the President of the United States, as national honorary chairman. Her letter to all local chairmen points out the vital need of alerting the help of all by the purchase and use of Christmas Seals.

"Since the sale of the first Christmas Seal," Hogan said, "millions of lives have been saved. But the saving of lives is not enough," he added. "We are also continuing to wage a relentless fight against the suffering."

Higginsville Woman Killed In Crash Near Lexington, Mo.

LEXINGTON, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Ann Summer, 19, of Higginsville, Mo., was killed Wednesday when the car she was driving collided with a truck 15 miles east of Lexington on U. S. 24.

A passenger, Patricia Ann Dysart, 19, Dover, Mo., was hospitalized in Lexington with cuts and bruises.

The truck driver, Delbert McIntire, 47, of Boonville, Mo., was not hurt.

Jobless Pay Up In Four County Area

Minuteman Work Completion As Reason for Hike

Initial claims, often an index to new unemployment, totaled 466 during October in the four county area (Pettis, Johnson, Morgan and Benton) served by the Sedalia unemployment office; up 31.7 per cent compared to September 1963 and down 3.5 per cent compared to October 1962. The increase of new unemployment is due to curtailment of the construction industry and temporary lay-offs in outlying manufacturing industries.

Weekly claims totaled 1,505 during this same period, up 31.5 per cent compared to September 1963 and up 2.3 per cent compared to October 1962. Benefits paid totaled $32,389.06 during October compared to $21,896.10 during September and $25,152.71 during October 1962.

Generally increases in both initial and weekly claims are due to the fact more people have been employed in the area during the past year covered by the Unemployment Insurance Law.

A total of 79 determinations were issued in October on claims made by individuals who either voluntarily quit their jobs or were discharged. This was an increase of 30.4 per cent compared to September.

New entrants into the labor market filing applications total 356 in October, an increase of 40 per cent compared to September. Non-agricultural job openings declined 43 per cent and placements declined 31 per cent.

Farm job openings increased 43 per cent during October and placements also increased 53 per cent compared to September.

One Gift Works Many Wonders

Include Whiteman In Money Authorization

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee approved today money for construction of projects at hundreds of military bases.

The projects were authorized by Congress this year or in previous years. The money measure now goes before the House and then to the Senate.

The appropriations include, by projects:

Kansas $3,448,000.
Army—Ft. Riley, $861,000; Ft. Leavenworth, $2,493,000. Air Force—Schilling AFB, Salina, $94,000.
Missouri $8,657,000.
Army—Ft. Leonard Wood, $8,577,000. Air Force—Whiteman AFB, Knob Noster, $80,000.

Smooth Out Latin Sails In Alliance

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—A U.S.-backed proposal to give Latin Americans greater responsibility in directing the Alliance for Progress apparently faced smoother sailing today after general rejection of a Brazilian plan to bring in as many European contributors as possible, even the Communist bloc.

Diplomats said the Brazilian proposal won only Bolivia's support from among the 20 nations attending the Inter-American Economic and Social Council session.

The Brazilian proposal apparently was intended to torpedo the U.S.-backed plan to create a seven-nation coordinating committee to pass on aid projects and give Latin Americans more influence in over-all control of the multibillion-dollar economic and social development program.

The Brazilians reportedly had still another maneuver in reserve. Informants said Brazil has indicated that if the seven-nation committee is approved, it will insist that the action be ratified by the congress of each member nation. This could delay formation of the committee for several years.

The Brazilians argued that the seven-nation committee would only impede the aid program by increasing red tape. But many delegates agreed that Brazil's opposition was based on the feeling that she would be reduced to the level of other nations applying for aid funds and that a mostly Latin-American committee would be less sensitive to political considerations than the United States has been.

U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, the head of the American delegation, placed U.S. support firmly behind the proposed committee.

Warning to Soviet Union On Effects of Spy Charge

Cultural Exchange Plan Out

Unthinkable To Discuss Program Further With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has canceled negotiations with Soviet Russia on a new cultural exchange agreement, officials said today.

Sources said President Kennedy would explain at a news conference that it would be unthinkable to negotiate a new agreement with the Russians while Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn, a scholar closely associated with the cultural exchange program, is held incommunicado in a Russian jail charged with spying.

Foy D. Kohler, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, was asked by Washington Wednesday night to give the administration his opinion on whether a delegation, scheduled to leave for the Soviet capital today, should postpone the trip.

Kohler's reply reached the State Department slightly more than an hour before Kennedy said today he would not object if the negotiations should be canceled at least until the Soviets give a satisfactory reply to the strong U.S. protest filed against the arrest of the Yale professor.

No Objection To Handling Prison Cases

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas F. Eagleton said today he would not object if the Legislature decided to give his office original criminal jurisdiction to handle cases of violence at the State Penitentiary.

But he noted it would be a departure from the state's historic policy and "it's a question of how far you want to go."

"I don't think we would have any investigative techniques and manpower not available to the prosecuting attorney," he told a special committee investigating recent stabbings at the prison.

He suggested the best solution might be to give an assistant to the Cole County prosecutor, James T. Riley. Some committee members had expressed concern earlier that Riley had prosecuted only one case of prison violence out of more than 200 reported.

Like Riley, Eagleton explained that the cooperation of convicts as witnesses is practically nil.

Eagleton explained that the attorney general's office can participate in criminal cases now only if the local prosecutor asks the governor to order Eagleton to send him help in a particular case.

The Weather

UN Raps North Korea For Ambush

Double-Cross Tactics Charges On Communists

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The U.N. command accused Communist North Korea today of a double-cross ambush of eight unarmed U.S. and South Korean soldiers in the demilitarized zone. One American was wounded and a South Korean captain was presumed dead.

The U.N. command said the Communists trapped the tiny unit and fired about 1,000 rounds in about four hours Wednesday afternoon. Seven men escaped after darkness fell.

North Korea was advised in advance that the two Americans and six South Koreans were going into the zone to check border markings, a U.N. spokesman said, and each man wore a yellow arm band identifying him as being on "authorized business."

The South Korean, seriously wounded, was left behind when the rest of the group plunged into an icy river and hid beneath its bank until dark.

The wounded American, an enlisted man, was shot in the thigh but got away. His identity was withheld until his family was notified.

The other American, Lt. Col. Alphonse R. Clark, 43, of Leavenworth, Kan., also was hospitalized, suffering from shock and exposure. He was the leader of the group.

CCA Approves Plant To Produce Nitrogen

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Consumers Cooperative Association has announced approval of plans to build a nitrogen plant in Iowa and an addition to an existing plant at Joplin.

Homer Young, president, said the Iowa plant, at a site not yet selected, will cost about $10 million.

The addition to the Joplin facility, now producing ammonium phosphate, will be a nitrogen unit, the cost to be about $3 million. Young said plans for a 100-ton-a-day plant are being drawn and contracts will be let as soon as negotiations for water and gas supplies are completed.

Strong Talk By Kennedy On Professor's Arrest

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy warned the Soviet Union today that the arrest of Frederick C. Barghoorn of Yale as an alleged spy could have "a most serious effect" on future U.S.-Russian cultural relations.

Flatly denying that Barghoorn, a distinguished political scientist, was spying, Kennedy spoke out strongly at a news conference.

Shortly before the conference the United States had abruptly canceled negotiations with Moscow for a new cultural exchange agreement.

"Prof. Barghoorn was not on an intelligence mission of any kind," the President emphasized.

The United States, the chief executive asserted, is deeply concerned not only at the arrest of Barghoorn, but at the fact that U.S. officials are kept in ignorance for days about the fact of his seizure.

Foy D. Kohler, American ambassador, and other U.S. diplomats have lodged six protests with Russia in the last 38 hours, Kennedy pointed out.

Barghoorn, the President asserted, had played a most helpful and constructive role in the exchange of students with the Soviets and in other cultural affairs.

His arrest was completely unjustified, Kennedy added, and "his early release is essential if these cultural programs are to continue."

Kohler was asked Wednesday night to give his opinion on whether a delegation, scheduled to leave for Moscow today to discuss the cultural agreement should postpone the trip.

World News In Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Charging vote fraud, civilian opponents of strongman Chung Hee Park have filed suit with the Supreme Court asking nullification of his election as president last month.

The Civil Rule party of Yun Po-sun, who narrowly lost the election, filed the suit. It claimed at least 320,000 votes cast for Yun had been either declared invalid or counted as votes for Park.

LONDON (AP)—One of Britain's most popular television programs, which pokes fun at politicians, will be discontinued after Dec. 28 because of the general election next year.

The British Broadcasting Corp. gave no indication Wednesday whether the program—"That Was the Week That Was"—would be revived after the elections.

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—The freighter Sherbro sailed from Halifax for Nigeria Wednesday with 6 million empty beer bottles.

Capt. Bob Wood said the bottles were in demand in Nigeria where "draught beer doesn't go down at all well." Wood said Nigerians consider bottled beer "something of a status symbol."

Congress Nudged On Tax Cutting

Hopeful Slash Plan Will Reach Senate This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy prodded Congress again today to pass his tax-cut bill as a means to prevent the economy from suffering.

Kennedy told a news conference further long delay on both taxes and on civil rights legislation would be unfortunate.

He voiced a hope that the measure to slash taxes $11 billion can reach the Senate floor before the end of this year—a dim hope in the light of the present legislative jam.

Kennedy said the hearings on the tax bill have been "quite voluminous" and that it seems possible to shorten the Senate hearings and bring the measure to the floor before the end of the year.

Delay on the tax bill, he said, may be bad for the economy and he thinks no one in Congress would wish this.

One danger, Kennedy said is that if the tax measure does go over into 1964, the civil rights bill will get to the Senate about the same time and there may be even further delay. He said the House could act on civil rights this year.

Rockefeller Gives Demos 'Ammunition'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic National Committee fattened its already bulging files on Sen. Barry Goldwater today with some of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's blasts at the Arizona Republican.

The Goldwater camp remained silent about the New York governor's newest attack on his potential rival for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

But Samuel Brightman, publicity director for the Democratic National Committee, reported cheerfully that Rockefeller's indictment of Goldwater's views in a speech before the Associated Press Managing Editors Association in Miami Beach, Fla., was being filed under "what Republicans say about Republicans."

"We have been Goldwater fans for quite a spell," Brightman said in an interview. "We have reams and reams of his quotes all ready for anything that might happen. We even send out some questions now and then that Republicans who are not as conservative as he is can put to him."

Brightman volunteered that the national committee didn't close its files on former Vice President Richard M. Nixon after he lost the 1960 presidential election.

"We are not among those who regard Nixon as washed up, so far as the Republicans are concerned," Brightman said.

The Business World

Final Quarter Is Better Than Industries Expected

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — At the halfway point, the final quarter of the year is looking even better for many industries than they'd expected. And that worries some of them a little.

Their sales and new orders are impressive. Their profits have risen. Their inventories are about in line with current and prospective business. Their customers seem in a confident mood.

And, with the exception of a few speculative flareups in the stock market, there's been no sign of a dangerous rush to overconfidence. If there are seeds of boom-and-bust, they haven't sprouted.

About the only expressions of worry come from those who think times are so good that appearances must be deceiving, that inner weaknesses must be hidden.

All lines of business, as usual, aren't prospering. Nor are all regions of the nation. All too many persons are out of work. Many more now working fear their jobs are threatened by machines.

But with a little more than six weeks to go, the economy taken as a whole is making 1963 a top year.

For many businesses the final months are customarily the best of the year. And some see these final weeks as even better than usual. The auto industry is a prime example. And running ahead of a year ago are factory shipments of refrigerators, kitchen ranges, water heaters, dishwashers, and food waste disposers.

New Orders for all factories set a record in September and unfilled orders guaranteed busy weeks and months ahead.

Industrial production as a whole has hit a new high, with only a few components lagging.

Personal incomes at last report were at an annual rate of $466.5 billion, up $21 billion from a year ago.

All of this adds up to a grand total for the nation's output of goods and services — the Gross National Product — of $588.5 billion at an annual rate, up $32 billion from the year.

These records don't solve all the problems by any means.

Some say times will have to get a lot better still, if jobs are to be found for all those who really want them.

Problems there are and will continue to be. But most businessmen admit that 1963 is one of the better years, with the final weeks looking particularly bright.

Results were shown Wednesday night. The trail carried reporter Roger Mudd from Washington to California, to New Orleans, to Florida—and back to Washington.

He talked with an alarmed housewife in Lompoc, Calif., a radio spellbinder in Mesa, Arizona, and at least three right-wing writers who had pushed the story along. He also ran across some anti-Semitic undercurrents.

But the source was a newsletter to constituents from Rep. James B. Utt, R-Calif., and it was, he said, a mistake.

The congressman, lacking precise information about the manpower makeup of the maneuvers, had expressed concern. In the same sentence he mentioned a rumored concentration of "barefoot" African forces in Cuba.

"I'm sorry," said Utt, "that they read it out of context."

Sen. Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif., said the water moccasin rumor now seems dead, but new ones are coming along, including one that the Post Office's new "ZIP" system is "part of a United Nations plot to number people for the final takeover."

It was an illuminating program and a real public service.

ABC executives respond with a cautious "no comment" to rumors that conferences are being held about cancelling the weekly "Jerry Lewis Show," which has received a poor reception from audiences and critics.

In the newest Nielsen ratings, covering the last two weeks in October, the two-hour Saturday night show was embarrassingly far down in the list.

As two weeks earlier, "Beverly Hillsbillies," "Bonanza," and "The Dick Van Dyke Show" were win, place and show. The only new show on the top-10 list was, again, CBS' "Petticoat Junction."

The sermon will be Graham's first before a Roman Catholic body.

"I think," said Graham, "that it is evidence of the ecumenical (Christian unity) spirit in the world today."

LONDON (AP)—A thief stole jewels valued at $14,000 from the London hotel room of Lady Willington Wednesday night.

Her husband heads Britain's biggest firm of private anti-theft experts.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal bishop of California, says the main barrier to unity between the Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches is the Catholic doctrine of papal infallibility.

He added in a speech at St. John's Seminary that he can see no solution to the impasse.

But, Bishop Pike told the Catholic seminarians:

"If unity ever arrives, we can use some priests in our parish."

An Overhaul For College Is Proposed

CHICAGO (AP) — A major overhaul of college education, extending it from four years to five and postponing specialization until graduate school, was proposed here today by a university president.

Francis H. Horn of the University of Rhode Island said the education of broadly informed citizens can no longer be accomplished in the traditional four years.

Undergraduates should not be required to study some particular field in depth, Horn said, particularly "if such depth is at the expense of exposure to and understanding of some of the humanities, including the fine arts, the social sciences, and the natural sciences."

"The student," Horn added, "should be introduced to as many areas of the arts and sciences as possible. He shouldn't have to miss either chemistry or Shakespeare, art or anthropology."

Horn made his proposals in a speech at the annual meeting of the Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges.

In urging that college be extended from four years to five, Horn struck at one of the most hallowed traditions in higher education. The four-year college program has been handed down over the centuries from the Middle Ages.

"The inflexible academic lockstep must be broken," Horn said. "Some students may make it in four years; others will require six, depending upon the student's ability and application and the extent and quality of his secondary (high school) education."

Horn said he expected his proposal to do away with academic majors to be resisted.

"Pope's aphorism, 'a little knowledge is a dangerous thing,' will be cited," he said. "But Pope was wrong."

"A little knowledge of Shelly, Moliere, or Tolstoy is better than no knowledge at all, so long as that little is accurate."

Similarly, a little understanding of Keynesian economics, existentialism, or Soviet foreign policy is better than none at all, again provided that that little is accurate, and that the student possesses reasonable intelligence."

Ann Landers

Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: That letter from "Married To A Ham" should not be taken lightly. You suggested that the wife should get interested in the hobby, too. I knew of a fellow who taught his wife to operate his ham radio and it almost broke up two marriages.

Mrs. Y. started a cozy little talk-romance with a guy from Enid, Oklahoma. They began to mail pictures back and forth. The next thing anybody knew, Mrs. Y. took off for Enid. A few weeks later, the guy from Enid came up to see Mrs. Y. These two psycho-ceramics (crackpots) spent four whole days together—"getting acquainted," they said.

Fortunately, no divorces took place. The people involved finally got squared away with the help of a couple of clergymen.

So you can see, Ann, women don't really belong in the ham radio field. It should be strictly for men. — AGAINST HALF-BAKED LADY HAMS.

Dear Hali Baked: You forget that half of this goofy twosome was a man. Characters like Mrs. Y. and Mr. Enid could have met on a street car, so don't blame the hobby.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently I went into one of the finest department stores in the city. A clock which I had purchased there several months ago needed repair. I encountered a line of seven people ahead of me at the repair desk.

There was only one girl on duty and that flea brain couldn't have cared less about the customers. She was busily engaged in a telephone conversation with her boy friend. Her back was turned toward the customers but the conversation was audible to everyone within 10 feet.

The girl was on the phone for exactly 12 minutes, by my watch. Three customers were angry enough to leave. I waited. It took me 22 minutes to drop off that clock.

My husband who was waiting outside was fit to be tied. What would you have done? — ONLY HUMAN.

Dear Only: After waiting 5 minutes for the girl to get off the horn, I would have hunted up the floor manager and invited him over to the repair counter for a listen.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 13-year-old girl who made a terrible mistake. Two weeks ago I

'62 Platform May Invite New Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Sen. Barry Goldwater pitches his expected Republican presidential nomination campaign on a 1962 statement of GOP principles, he may invite fresh attacks on his civil rights stand.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, an announced candidate for the nomination, recently said he could support the Arizona senator as the party's standard bearer only "if he ran on a party platform like the one in 1960."

Goldwater, who has advocated that the Republicans go before the voters in 1964 with a general statement of principles instead of a detailed platform, replied that the 1962 statement superseded the 1960 platform. He indicated it was more to his liking.

In a 1,500-word summary of views hammered out by a 12-member Senate-House committee headed by Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., the stand on civil rights was put this way:

"We believe that government must act to help establish conditions of equal opportunity for all people and to help assure that no one is denied the requisites for a life of dignity."

The broad declaration approached the type of statement Goldwater has been advocating that the Republicans make in 1964—one that could be interpreted by each individual candidate as he chose.

This kind of statement could be extolled in the North as a forthright civil rights declaration. It could be dismissed in the South as little more than a platitude.

The Arizona senator has said he thinks there are adequate laws on the books to take care of voting abuses. He thought another proposal to give the President authority to withhold aid funds from states which fail to desegregate was interesting, but doubted that it was "either constitutionally correct or morally correct."

He supported the President's request for authority for the attorney general to initiate school integration suits, if such authority were tightly limited.

Long before he would concede that he had more than an outside chance of getting the 1964 nomination, he said one of his primary objectives in his travels about the country was to stir up sentiment among party members for a conservative platform.

How much influence he will have in getting one now seems to depend on his position in the nomination contest when the

Speaks At Harvest Tea

The annual Harvest Tea was given by the WSCS of Wesley Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 12, in the Fellowship Room, with music preceding the program by Mrs. George Lovercamp at the piano.

The program was opened by Mrs. I. H. Lehmer who asked the group to rise and sing, "Come Ye Thankful People, Come." She then read Psalms 107 and 100 which were appropriate for Thanksgiving time.

It is well our Pilgrim Fathers instituted our Thanksgiving, Mrs. Lehmer said, for it gives us time to think. She told of a church in England with prayer cushions on which is printed "Think and Thank." Thanksgiving, she continued, is one of recognition of the blessing and the Pilgrims in 1620 did just that. They had no indoor plumbing, no water, no electricity, no cars, no television, but they were thankful to be in a country where they could worship as they pleased. They had to struggle to keep alive that we may have all these things—let us think and thank as we pray, she said.

Mrs. R. M. Stonner then read a beautiful Thanksgiving poem: "Freedom of the Soul."

Mrs. Jack Gray and Mrs. James Richardson sang two very lovely songs, "Getting to Know You" and "The Goodness of the Lord" with Mrs. Lovercamp at the piano.

The story of Thanksgiving was then given by Mrs. Charles Huddleston, who told of the little group that had landed here after a hard trip, of the struggle through that first winter, the hardships, the fear and the death of their people during that time. There had been sickness and Indians, but in the spring the redman revealed that his trials were even worse. One came to them telling them of all his tribe had died of a plague, and he taught them the Indian way of fishing and gave them corn to plant. He brought another, who also, was the only one left of his tribe following a plague.

It was then that these two went to a tribe hostile to the white man, Mrs. Huddleston said, and that tribe, too, became friendly. It was on Dec. 11 of that year that the little group of Pilgrims held their first Thanksgiving which lasted for three days, to thank God for his blessing during that first year, and they invited the Indians. There were 90 Indians at that first Thanksgiving.

George Washington set the observance of Thanksgiving for Nov. 26, 1789, and Abraham Lincoln proclaimed the fourth Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. Huddleston stated, and each president since that time has proclaimed the date for Thanksgiving.

The service closed with prayer.

The tea table was centered with a large arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums with yellow tapers in silver holders. Mrs. Herbert Hillme, wife of the district superintendent of Methodist Churches, and Mrs. George Sparling, wife of the pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, served.

RARE 'TREAT' — Little Susan Rogers, four years old, plays with three coins she got on Hallowe'en when she was out on "Tricks or Treats," at Detroit, Mich. Her dad had the coins appraised Nov. 11 and they turned out to be rare and worth about $100. Now her parents are trying to persuade her to return the coins to owner if he can be found. Cole Speaks On Welfare Department

Alvin Cole, director of the Pettis County Welfare Department, was the speaker at the Sedalia Lions Club noonday meeting.

The speaker told of the seven programs under the department, old age assistance, aid to dependent children, general aid relief, aid to the blind, blind pensions, child welfare and old age pensions.

In his talk he explained the old age assistance peak several years ago was 135,000 and is now on a downward trend, the most recent report being 104,000.

Cole in his talk explained the various functions of investigations of cases in the ADC and how it is qualified for funds.

The speaker was introduced by Rev. Harry Purviance, program chairman. Rev. Purviance also announced the program next week will be Tom Butterfield, director of the Butterfield Boys Ranch at Marshall.

Guests at the meeting were Cliff Fairchild and Roger Cahill, of the State Highway Department, guests of William Bunn, and Jim White of the Farm Bureau, guest of John Mals.

Flower Judges Give Program

Central Missouri District Council of Nationally Accredited Flower Show Judges will sponsor a flower arrangement lecture and demonstration on Christmas ideas at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 19, at the Agriculture Building, Missouri State Fairgrounds.

Mrs. John W. Knight, Akron, Ohio, will be speaker-arranger. Her theme will be "Knight Before Christmas." Mrs. Knight is a nationally known speaker and author of "Flower Arrangements and Designs for Today."

Mrs. Knight has life and master's certificates for national judging and is an accredited instructor of flower arrangement in flower show schools. She is current president of the Garden Forum of Greater Akron.

Mrs. Walter Pope, Eldon, is chairman of the sponsoring group. Mrs. Wilford C. Acker, Mrs. P. L. Strole and Mrs. Herbert Seifert are in charge of local arrangements.

Tampering Charge Withdrawn; New Charges Filed

A charge of tampering with a motor vehicle has been withdrawn and a new charge of stealing a motor vehicle filed against Joseph Daniel Harper, 42, Kansas City, and his 17-year-old son, Terry Gene.

The Harpers have been held in the Pettis County jail in lieu of $1,000 bonds since Aug. 16 when they were bound over for Circuit Court trial on the original charge.

Wednesday, Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz withdrew the tampering with a motor vehicle charge in Circuit Court and Thursday filed the theft charge.

The Harpers were arraigned Thursday morning before Judge Frank Armstrong in Magistrate Court on the new theft charge, waived a preliminary hearing and were bound over to Circuit Court.

They are charged in connection with the theft of a 1957 auto, owned by William Lower, 1438 South Carr, on Aug. 11. They were arrested in Kansas City by two officers there after a bulletin concerning the missing auto was issued.

Figures released by the United States Public Health Service show that RD (respiratory disease) ranks first among disabilities of people and fourth among causes of death. Hogan said, "We must expand our effort to find hidden cases of RD, including tuberculosis, in this community. One of our goals is to alert every person to the fact that chronic cough and shortness of breath, most common symptoms of RD, may indicate the presence of a serious ailment and require the advice of a physician. There is no better way to put more money into medical research to find better ways of fighting TB and respiratory diseases."

Larry G. Green, 919 West Fifth, charged with speeding 70 in a 40 mile zone, pleaded guilty and was fined $30.

Police Reports

Jack Lawson, 1204 East 14th, reported to police Wednesday night that a hole had been knocked in the side of the car-buretor on his auto while the vehicle was parked during the day at Sixth and Lamine.

Mrs. Minnie Clifford, 402 East Seventh, told police at 2:50 a.m. Thursday a rock was thrown through the west window of her home, shattering glass over a cot where she was sleeping.

Jane Bunce, 1717 West Third, reported to police Wednesday the loss of her Missouri license plate.

Anna Fay Aten, 31, Otterville, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Wednesday afternoon by Dr. J. M. Rodeman, after she reportedly fainted and fell in the 200 block on South Ohio. She was later released. She was taken to the hospital in the McLaughlin ambulance.

Sheriff Report

Four juveniles and a 19-year-old Sedalia youth, who were held overnight Wednesday in the Pettis County jail after a turkey stealing incident, were released Thursday morning after restitution was made for the stolen fowls.

The five were brought before county authorities and Juvenile Officer Cecil Glenn Thursday morning where the restitution arrangement was worked out between the boys and their parents.

The boys, however, are also scheduled to see some serious labor in the turkey business. Juvenile Officer Glenn said the boys are to assist in the loading of the turkeys when they are marketed.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax reported that the youths were picked up on west Highway 50 after a report and description of the car they were driving was received from Mrs. Garrett Haggard, Route 2, Fairfax indicated that Mrs. Haggard heard a disturbance and investigated. She saw the car, called the sheriff's office and about two hours later the youths were apprehended.

Fairfax said the youths had admitted stealing two turkeys and selling them for $5. They did not know the name of the man to whom the sale was made.

Names of the juveniles were not released in accordance with juvenile codes and the name of the 19-year-old youth was not revealed as no criminal charge was filed.

Circuit Court

Mary Witwer, Kansas City, filed a damage petition in Circuit Court Thursday seeking a $15,000 judgment against Thomas Garrett, 201 East Broadway. The damage petition is the result of an automobile accident at 62nd and College in Kansas City on Jan. 26, 1963, involving cars driven by the plaintiff and Mr. Garrett.

A damage petition seeking a total judgment of $25,600 was filed in Circuit Court Wednesday by Gilbert C. Moreau against Kelly R. Marsh, Route 1.

The action evolved from a motor vehicle accident at Broadway and Wagner on Aug. 21, 1963, involving the Moreau and Marsh vehicles. The plaintiff asks $25,000 for injuries he allegedly received and $600 for damage to his 1958 Volkswagen sedan.

John C. McCloskey is attorney for Mr. Moreau.

Two damage petitions were filed Wednesday in Circuit Court against Dilbert Gale Clark, a minor, as the result of an automobile accident on west Highway 50 on Nov. 17, 1962.

Harry L. Woolery, driver of the other auto involved, asks a judgment of $10,000 against Clark.

Lois Pangburn, a minor acting through her next friend and mother, Augusta Pangburn, asks in the second petition a judgment of $25,000 against Clark. She was a passenger in the auto allegedly struck from the rear by the Clark auto.

Robert Wesner is attorney for the two plaintiffs.

Nadine Klein filed a damage petition in Circuit Court Wednesday asking a judgment of $10,000 against Rudolph C. Borup, Tulsa, Okla.

She was a passenger in a car which was involved in an accident with a car driven by Borup at Broadway and Sneed on Aug. 27, 1963.

Robert Wesner is her attorney.

Hootenanny Set At Smith-Cotton Friday Night

Smith-Cotton's senior high student council will introduce a new form of entertainment to Sedalians both young and old Friday night at 7:30 at the gym, through a hootenanny.

A hootenanny, for those who don't already know, is a get-together of folksingers and folksinging lovers of all ages, in order to have a big evening of natural unrehearsed entertainment. Although hootenannies are popular at many colleges and are staged frequently, one has never been attempted by a high school in the state of Missouri. Smith-Cotton is the first school to attempt such a program.

Bill Brown, a balladier from Central Missouri State College, will play several numbers on his 12 string guitar. Miss Hazel Gray is sponsor of the Smith-Cotton student councils.

Area Students Listed On Scholarship Roll

More than 110 students have been named to the dean's mid-semester scholarship list for the fall semester at Central Methodist College. The scholarship honor requires at least a 3.0 grade average.

Area students who were named are: Miss J. Karen DeMott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon C. DeMott, of Route 1, Sedalia; Miss Linda Read, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chatham Read, of Pilot Grove; and Miss Iva Lou Alcorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Alcorn, Route 2, Windsor.

Knipp-Gist Vows are Said In Kansas City

Miss Frances Ellen Knipp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Knipp, Tipton, became the bride of Mr. Larry Dale Gist, son of Mrs. Florence Gist, Lincoln at eleven o'clock Saturday morning, Nov. 2 at St. James Catholic Church, Kansas City. The Rev. Thomas Wiederholdt read the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street length white wool sheath dress and a corsage of red roses.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koonse, Booneville, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. Mrs. Koonse wore a blue wool sheath dress. Her corsage was also of red roses.

Breakfast was served at Indian Creek Inn to members of the wedding party.

The bride was graduated in 1961 from Tipton High School. The newlyweds are employed in Kansas City and reside at 3749 The Paseo, Kansas City.

Dinner was served Nov. 3 at the home of the bride's parents honoring the couple. Mrs. Gist, mother of the bridegroom, and members of the Knipp family were guests.

Centering the table was a wedding cake decorated with red roses. Encircling the base was fern. A vase and candleholder used on the table were used at the wedding dinner of the bride's parents in May of 1950.

Dinner Honors Sedalia Woman's 95th Birthday

A contributive dinner was held Nov. 8, at St. John's Lutheran Church, Cole Camp, in honor of Mrs. Louise Brockschmidt, 3400 South Kentucky, on her 95th birthday.

A four tiered birthday cake and floral arrangements decorated the tables.

Sharing the occasion with Mrs. Brockschmidt were her three children and families: Albert Brockschmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kroenke, Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bormann, Ionia. Five grandchildren and their families were also present: Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ashbrook and Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Davis, Debbie, and Stevie, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Monsees, Lois, Wanda and Mona, Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Orville E. Mein, Carolyn, David and Wayne, Ft. Scott, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Satterwhite, Mark, Scott and Lynda, Fredericktown. Brothers attending were Ernest Kaiser, Cole Camp, and Fred H. Kaiser, St. Louis.

Others present were: Mr. Richard Brockschmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Heseman, Walter Brockschmidt, Mrs. Hedwig Doss, Mrs. Ida Osterloh, Miss Helen Heseman, Freistatt; Mrs. Adelaide Fritz, Monett; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Osterloh, Verona; the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Honig, Lincoln, Kan.; Mrs. Lydia Beckmann, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mendius, Miss Bertha Kaiser, St. Louis; Mrs. Hilda Krause, Brentwood; the Rev. THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Thurs., Nov. 14, '63 7 Miss Heckart Given License

Miss Sue Heckart, associated with her parents at Gillespies Funeral Home, received her embalmer's license last week in St. Louis at a meeting of Missouri State Embalmers. She was one woman student, in a group of 45 men. They took oral examinations during the convention and were conferred with licenses.

Miss Heckart attended the University of Kansas Department of Mortuary Science and received a bachelor of science degree in economics at Missouri Valley College, Marshall. Last year she passed a written examination on seven subjects to obtain her student's embalmer permit. She then served a year's apprenticeship with her father, Del Heckart. The oral examination last week was on practical work and understanding of state laws.

Membership is held by Miss Heckart in: Missouri Embalmers and Funeral Directors Association; National Funeral Directors Association; National Selected Morticians; Business and Professional Women's Club; Helen G. Steele Music Club; American Association of University Women; Eastern Star; Altrusa; Broadway Presbyterian Church and Delta Zeta Sorority.

Goldwater Sees Bigger Aid Slashes

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater sees pressure from a "rather fed up" America behind congressional slashes in President Kennedy's foreign aid bill—and he thinks the cuts should be bigger.

But while the Arizona senator tied into the administration aid program Tuesday night, he said he's taking Kennedy's advice on another subject: presidential politics.

Goldwater's Chicago outing was his first since New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller declared himself a candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

The conservative lawmaker said he still hasn't decided when or whether he will enter the race. Goldwater has set Jan. 27—the last day for filing in the Illinois presidential primary—as his deadline.

"There's no need to hurry it up or slow it down or what," he said at a news conference.

"In fact," said Goldwater, "the best advice I've had on it came from President Kennedy. And he said don't get in too soon. So I go to the experts."

Goldwater told some 1,400 Chicago businessmen "The average American is rather fed up with foreign economic aid."

"What we see is a deliberate attempt by the Congress to reflect the attitude of the people," he said.

The Senate is debating a bill authorizing $3.7 billion in foreign aid. Kennedy sought $4.5 billion.

In New York Friday, the President appealed to Congress not to scuttle his program "in an outburst of petty irritation and frustration."

Goldwater told newsmen he favors military assistance and technical aid, but the nation has had enough of economic assistance.

"I'd hope for better cuts," he said. "But... I would say that the bill right now in the Senate is about as good as it's going to get."

"You're not going to get away from it altogether, although I think this has to be aimed at."

Goldwater said a 20 per cent cut in economic assistance this year would "be encouraging to the American people" and would point toward elimination of the program.

Game Shows Get 40 Hours Of TV Time

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Network television is devoting 40 hours per week to game shows, panel shows and audience participation shows.

That is much more time than is devoted to any other single category. Within a couple of months the time will be increased by another hour.

NBC is undisputed champ, with nine such programs for a total of four and one-half hours a day five days a week.

And it soon will add an evening, once-a-week edition to its schedule when "You Don't Say," an afternoon fixture, expands to replace the canceled, "Redigo," a Western.

ABC is second in fun-and-games with four daytime shows and two evening programs.

CBS has only two daily shows, but each of these has a once-a-week evening program as well, plus the perennial nighttime "What's My Line?", but its total will increase after the first of the year when it adds "Alumni Fun" to its Sunday afternoon schedule.

"Alumni Fun," apparently, is a late replacement for "College Bowl," the sprightly quiz show featuring teams of bright college students that moved to NBC this season. The new CBS show matches teams of well-known old grads.

If the viewers wonder about network enthusiasm for games and panels, there's a simple explanation: They are inexpensive and they usually draw good audiences.

NBC reports that Sunday night's experimental special, "That Was The Week That Was," satirizing current events, drew a record 639 telephone calls at its New York headquarters, including some from as far away as Florida and Texas.

Mrs. Katherine Cole, who has charge of listener calls and letters, said 406 callers approved, calling the program "new" and "brilliant."

The other 233 calls were disapproving, with viewers protesting they thought it bad taste to poke fun at the President and the clergy.

CBS, unhappy about some trouble spots in its schedule, is

Five Alarm Fire Razes Cliff House

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A five-alarm fire destroyed part of San Francisco's Cliff House complex Tuesday night, but spared the famed restaurant itself.

Eighteen firemen were injured fighting the blaze, which caused damage estimated at $1 million by Fire Chief William Murray.

The flames destroyed a three-story museum—crammed with relics of the California goldrush days and other historic events of the West—a hot dog stand, a gift shop and coffee shop.

Eighteen fire trucks fought the blaze which shot flames more than 100 feet into the air at times. The fire raged out of control for more than two hours. Firemen were hampered by lack of hose outlets.

Murray said faulty wiring in the museum's sub-basement may have started the fire.

One fireman suffered a fractured shoulder. The others were overcome by smoke.

Hoodlums in the crowd of more than 15,000 were responsible for two injured policemen. They hurled stones at the officers as policemen attempted to clear the area. Both officers suffered fractured hands, police said.

Witnesses swarmed the beach beneath the cliffside structure, sat atop neighboring hills and streamed out of a nearby amusement park.

The restaurant, perched precariously on a rock cliff on the Pacific's shore northwest of downtown San Francisco, burned down twice in the past.

trying to make some emergency repairs.

Starting Saturday, it will move the faltering "Phil Silvers Show" into a later spot and return the award-winning "Defenders" to its old 8:30-9:30 (EST) spot.

Some thought also is going into the possibility of moving "The Judy Garland Show" to break up a solid two-hour block of variety entertainment, starting with Ed Sullivan's hour on Sunday nights.

Student Work Days Boost Small College

HILLSBORO, Kan. (AP)—Some picked corn in Minnesota. Others plowed fields in Colorado swept floors in Oklahoma or bottled honey at home.

All are students raising money for Tabor College. It was part of the annual student work days, a student-run project dedicated to improving the physical plant at the small Mennonite Brethren college.

This year the students are dressing up the college administration building. Some worked on the building while others took part time jobs. All their wages were donated to the project. They've raised over $8,000, and more still is due some of them.

"We expect to go over our goal of $8,500," said Dale Suderman, student coordinator for the work.

Student work days were Oct. 17-19. This was the 13th year the college has called a fall holiday so students could get out and work for their school. The first 12 brought in about $45,000.

Last year, the students raised $8,400 and bought furnishings for the student center. In 1961, a combination student center-gym-auditorium was finished with money raised from work day projects.

Enrollment this fall is 365 and Suderman said at least 355 students took jobs.

"Some began the improvement project here on campus during that time," he said. "They painted the administration building on the inside. Work is to start within two weeks on replacing the steps in front of the building."

"About half of them work in this state. Five packaged honey in a plant here. A lot of the Scholarship Hike to Aid Sports Plan

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Dr. James A. McCain, president of Kansas State University, has announced a five-point program, including an increase in scholarships, to bring K-State's football program up to Big Eight Conference levels.

McCain termed "utterly ridiculous" any suggestions the university plans to withdraw from the conference. The football team has dropped 26 straight league games.

"This has never been considered and will not be," he said. "You cannot put that statement too strongly."

The K-State president said the five-point program was developed at a series of meetings after the 1962 season, when Coach Doug Weaver was given a new three-year contract despite an 0-10 record.

Weaver recruited more extensively this summer and his team is better, but has only one victory in eight games. McCain said immediate steps would be taken on these five points:

1. More adequate financing of football, within conference policies.
2. Increased athletic scholarship grants.
3. Enlargement of the coaching staff, if necessary.
4. More aggressive recruiting with emphasis on the role of alumni.
5. Improvement of athletic physical facilities.

"I am tremendously pleased by the attitude of our supporters," the K-State president said. "...the almost universal question is 'What can I do to help?'"

McCain said he's confident Weaver "is capable of producing competitive football teams if given the tools and support to do the job."

K-State is a perennial basketball power, but has had only three winning football seasons since its only title year of 1934.

Charge Pair With Holdup Of a Tavern

KANSAS CITY (AP) — First degree robbery charges were filed against two men Wednesday in connection with the hold-up early Tuesday of the Barrel Buffet, a tavern.

The night watchman, Henry Christman, 49, was beaten with a pipe wrench during the robbery. He was reported in poor condition at General Hospital, where he underwent surgery Tuesday night for a skull fracture.

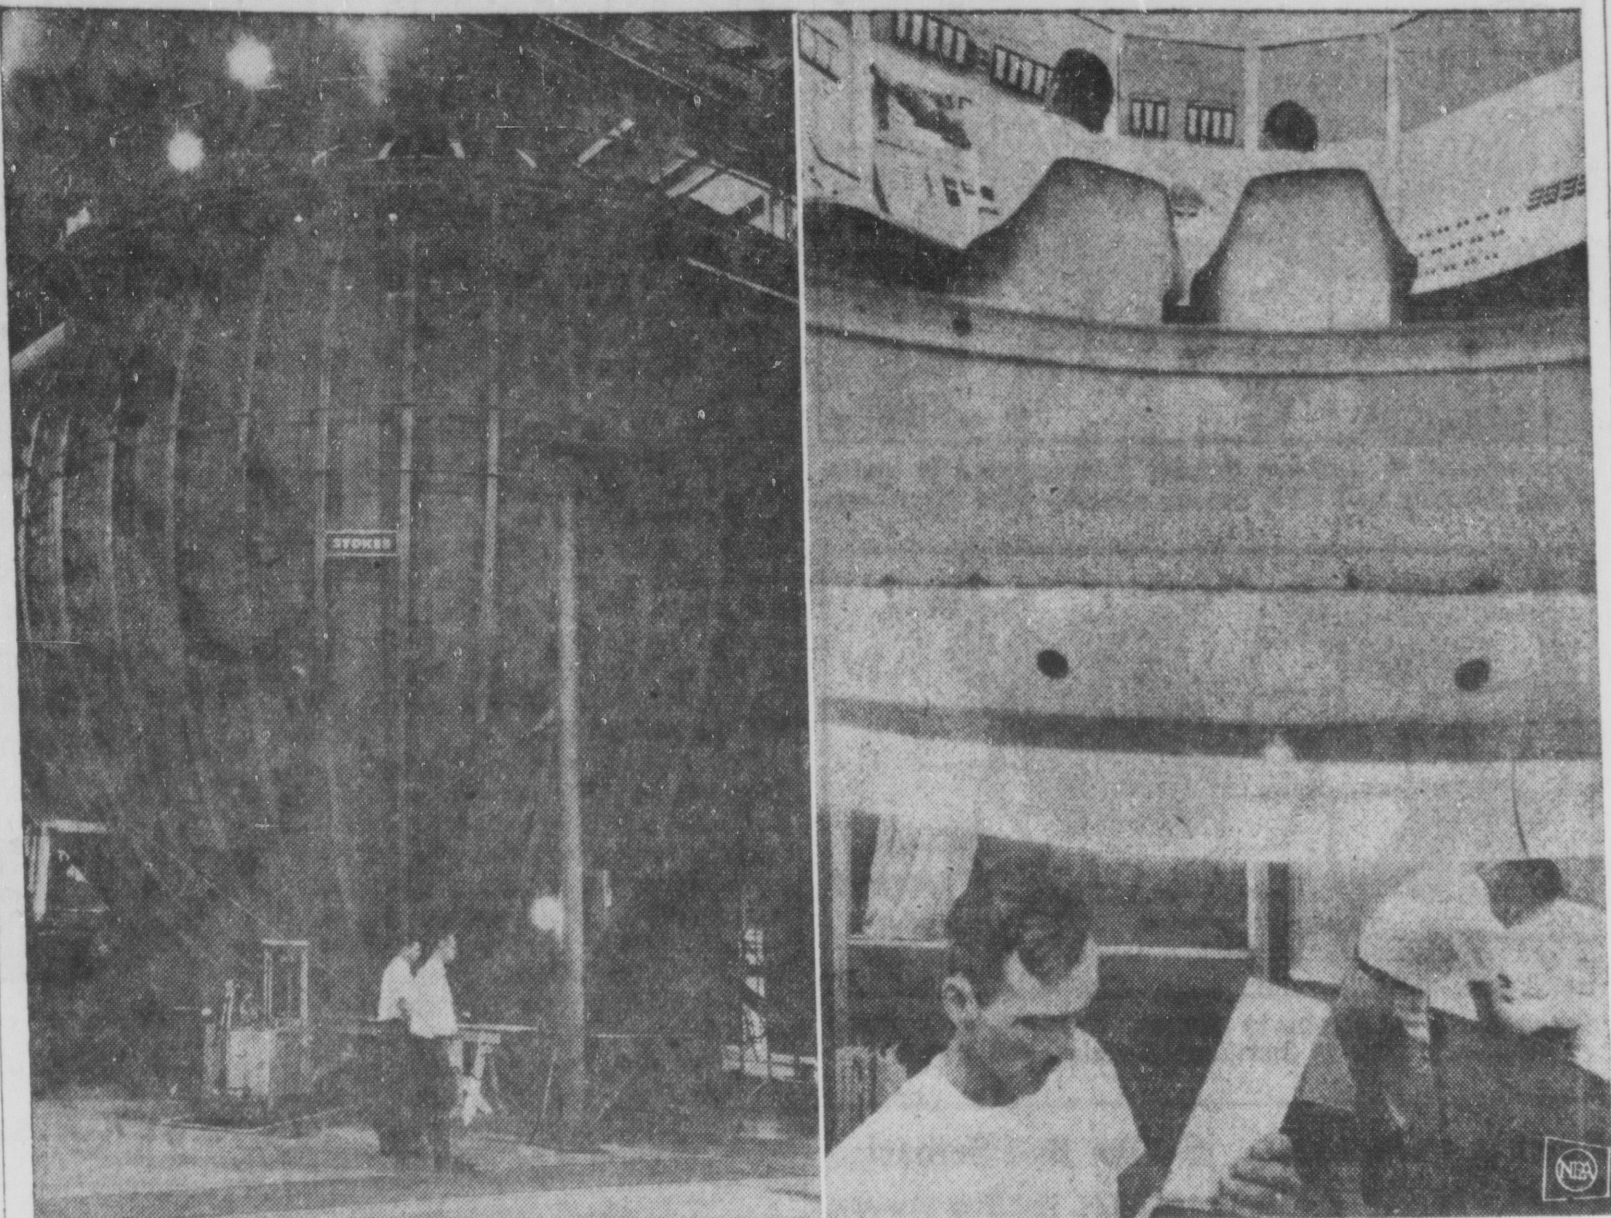

John Andrew Benison Jr., 25, of Kansas City was arraigned on the robbery charge by Magistrate Harry Whitney, who set the preliminary hearing for next Tuesday. Benison was taken to county jail after failing to post $25,000 bond.

A warrant charging George Dale Brake, 24, was issued as a detainer. Brake is in jail awaiting removal to a federal penitentiary to begin serving an indeterminate sentence up to six years for cashing stolen American Express money orders.

He was arrested Tuesday morning at an apartment.

Benison was arrested before the robbery was discovered Tuesday when a police officer stopped a car in which he and two other men were riding. The other two fled, but Benison was subdued.

In the car police found three sacks of money containing $1,851.83 and a cigar box. The sacks and box were later identified as belonging to the tavern.

TO SPACE AND BACK—Huge sphere, left, was home for 30 days to four "terranauts" who successfully carried out a simulated voyage into space at GE's Space Technology Center in Valley Forge, Pa. Their "ship" was a 12½-foot by 24-foot cylinder inside the sphere. Wide-angle lens, right, catches the two sections of the space cabin. Two of the crew can be seen operating controls on the flight deck while the other two relax off duty on the living deck. The experiment was conducted under conditions closer to actual long-duration space flight than any previous test. Had the men really been in space, they would have completed 480 orbits of earth.

Smithton WSCS Ends Asian Study

Mrs. William Ratje concluded the study of Eastern Asia at the November meeting of Woman's Society of Christian Service, Smithton Methodist Church, in the church's fellowship hall. She reported on a meeting she attended in Sedalia to hear Mrs. Mae Everett show slides and tell of her trip to Pakistan.

Assisting Mrs. Ratje were Mrs. Shelby Kahrs, Mrs. Clarence Eicholtz and Mrs. Leonard Semkin.

Mrs. Lawrence Grupe presented a portion of the study, speaking about Nepal and Ceylon. She narrated two films, "New Day in Nepal" and "Lily Lal Becomes a Nurse."

Miss Laura Kruse gave a history of the lotus, native flower of Eastern countries.

A litany, led by Mrs. Semkin and Mrs. Eicholtz, and the response given by Mrs. Grupe. Bracelets, like those made by women in the countries studied were made by Mrs. Emma Monsees and tied on the wrists of each woman attending.

Before luncheon, Mrs. Ratje dismissed the meeting with prayer. Esther Circle, Mrs. George Meyers and Mrs. Harry Henderson, chairmen, were hostesses. Tables were decorated with chrysanthemums and nut cups made from napkins, imprinted with maps of the countries studied, and folded to form lotus blossoms.

Mrs. Ben Mahnken played the afternoon call to order and accompanied the group in singing, "Come Thou Almighty King."

A report on youth camp at Camp Galilee was given by campers, Donald Merk and Clifford Hubbard.

The afternoon program was prepared by Mrs. Frank Page, Mrs. Cloyd Merk and Mrs. Cecil Smith. Mrs. Page gave the program introduction to "The Church in the World." Scripture was read by Mrs. Lewis Hubbard.

Mrs. Audrey Neumeyer and Mrs. Euel Muschaney showed pictures and told of their recent tour of the United Nations in New York and their Washington, D.C., visit.

Party Heads See No Slide In Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Everett M. Dirksen and George A. Smathers were confident the economy will continue operating in high gear even if there is no tax cut until 1964.

Dirksen, Senate Republican leader, and Smathers, Floridian who is secretary of the Democratic Conference, agreed in an interview that there is no economic downturn in sight.

President Kennedy has been pressing for Senate action on the House-passed $11-billion tax reduction bill to spur business. Smathers remained hopeful there could be action this year but Dirksen said it won't come until 1964.

The Republican leader said he thought it was rather thin and tenuous to contend that tax reduction would have an immediate effect on the economy. He indicated he is not worried by the delay in action.

Smathers said he doesn't believe there will be an economic downturn this year. But he said business leaders and economists remained concerned that if taxes are not cut soon "we would begin to experience a downturn in the early part of next year."

Their views, in brief, on other issues in connection with the tax bill now in the hands of the Senate Finance Committee, of which both are members:

Tying spending limitation to bill:

Dirksen — Exactly how will you enforce it? How do you set it up in order to give it real effect? My experience with ceilings over a long period of time leads me to believe that you have some difficulty there.

Smathers — We are the ones here in Congress who will determine the amount of appropriations. It's not done in the executive branch of the government.

The effect of a tax cut made in an election year:

Dirksen — One would normally think that if a tax cut could be well-propagandized in an election year it might have some political benefit. But people are pretty well inured to these dodges in our political system and perhaps its effect will not be as great as one might anticipate.

Smathers — I don't believe it will make a great deal of difference, generally speaking, because in this instance, most of the Republicans are supporting the tax bill.

Will a tax reduction lift the

Prince Marks 15th Birthday On Thursday

LONDON (AP) — The Prince of Wales, heir to the British throne, will be 15 Thursday.

He is definitely on the short side, but he has one of the longest names and titles going.

In full it is: His Royal Highness Prince Charles Philip Arthur George, knight of the Garter, Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester, Duke of Cornwall, Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, Lord of Renfrew, Lord of the Isles, the Great Steward of Scotland.

Schoomates and family call him Charles.

The closest anyone has come to officially calling him Charlie was when his mother, Queen Elizabeth II, announced her first-born would be known as Charles.

To this, Princess Margaret is reported to have quipped: "From now on I suppose I'll be known as Charlie's aunt."

The Prince of Wales may be shorter than the average boy of 15, but he is growing fast at the tough Scottish school, Gordonstoun, where he is a sophomore.

Gordonstoun students learn among other things to sail, navigate and rough it. It's no institution for effete young men.

For a while it appeared the future king was more interested in the arts than in rougher, more masculine pursuits.

At that period Charles excelled in painting, drawing and music. He even took an interest in cooking and baked several cakes.

That was about the time when plans to send Charles to Eton were shelved, and Gordonstoun was selected instead.

The prince is a good horseman, an excellent sailor and a fine shot with a gun.

Last June, he hit the headlines when he was caught knocking back a cherry brandy in the bar of the Crown Hotel at economy sufficiently to balance the budget in a couple of years?

Smathers — I firmly believe that, as does the business advisory group and most other business groups.

Dirksen — It'll have some effect, but in my judgment not nearly as much as anticipated

Eskimo Village Okays Prohibition

KOTZEBUE, Alaska (AP) — What's happened to the roistering, frozen north of the Gold Rush days?

Kotzebue, an Eskimo village of 1,290 above the Arctic Circle, voted 199-183 for prohibition in a local option election Wednesday.

Stornoway on the bleak Scottish island of Lewis. The incident received nationwide attention, and the majority of Britons probably smiled in sneaking approval.

Wherever he goes he is recognized, and people often wave to him. Invariably he waves back.

He is avidly interested in photography and cars. He is too young to qualify for a driving license, but his parents let him drive within the royal grounds at Windsor and Balmoral castles.

Two Plane Crashes Leave Pilot Shaky

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) —After two plane crashes within an hour, Lt. (jg) J.M. Baucom of Raleigh, N.C., was ready for a shot of brandy.

That was just what the doctor ordered, along with a steak.

First his jet fighter lost power after leaving the aircraft carrier Forrestal. Baucom ejected. His plane crashed and burned.

A helicopter picked up Baucom, then developed engine trouble and plummeted into a woods. Baucom was unhurt.

County Council Meeting
The quarterly meeting of the Home Economics Extension Club County Council met Monday, Nov. 11, First Methodist Church with Mrs. Albert Anderson, president, presiding.

The business of the Council was conducted during the morning by the 1963 presidents. The 1964 Council officers and committee chairmen were installed by Mrs. Otis Thomas and Opal O'Briant. The retiring presidents were presented a Past President pin by Miss O'Briant.

Mrs. Dorothy Riley and Mrs. Marjorie Reed spoke to the group on the facilities available to club members through the Boonslick Regional Library.

Cranberries for Thanksgiving
As Thanksgiving is approaching you may be planning your Thanksgiving dinner.

With the turkey, cranberries can give that additional spark to your dinner, and there are plenty of fresh, plump cranberries this season.

The packaging of cranberries has been done rather well. You can see into the package to be sure you are getting good quality berries. You can see their firmness. A light rolling touch to the bag of berries will give you the quality check—you don't have to squeeze the bag.

Look for firm cranberries with a fresh, plump appearance and high lustre. The small, dark red ones may be sweeter than the large bright red berries. Dull, soft or shriveled berries are of poor quality.

Cranberries store well in the refrigerator. In the film bags, they will keep 4-8 weeks at 33 degrees. Cranberries are one of the few fruits that can be frozen without further processing. If the retail package is air tight, the whole package can be put in the freezer as it is. They are easy to separate later because they are frozen dry. No thawing is needed before cooking, and they can be used as you would use fresh berries.

Are you planning to use your cranberries for sauce? If so, you can put the berries into containers and add a 50 per cent syrup—4 cups sugar and 4 cups water—then you can cook the berries in the syrup. The berries will be ready in a few minutes.

In addition to the fresh cranberries, there are plenty of processed cranberry products on the market. There are canned whole and jellied cranberries; then there is the cranberry juice. For a refreshing drink—mix the cranberry juice with gingerale or other fruit juices. It's a pretty ruby red color and can be served hot or cold.

Here's a tip if you are grinding the berries — grind them while they are frozen and they will be less drippy.

For a delicious salad, try a frozen cranberry salad. Here is the recipe:

1 lb. cranberries
3 medium apples
20 marshmallows
½ cup pecans
1 cup sugar
1 cup cream, whipped

Grind cranberries, apples, marshmallows and nuts together. Add sugar and mix. Allow to stand in refrigerator about ½ hour. Fold whipped cream into cranberry mixture. Pour into trays and freeze.

So whether you like cranberry sauce or salad — muffins or cake, you will enjoy eating cranberries this season.

Cooking Potatoes
No matter how potatoes are to be cooked, first remove sprouts and cut off green portions. If potatoes are pared, keep parings thin.

To get the most food value from potatoes, cook them whole in their jackets; boiling in as little water as possible saves the most vitamins.

Pared potatoes usually retain their whiteness better during boiling than potatoes cooked in their skins. If potatoes aren't cooked immediately after paring, cover them with water to prevent darkening.

For cooking whole, select potatoes of uniform size so that all will be done at the same time. The odd sizes can be used for potato salad or for scalloped potatoes or other dishes for which the potatoes are cut in pieces before cooking.

To speed cooking, cut potatoes and cook in as little water as possible in a tightly covered pan. Although the larger amount of exposed surface tends to increase loss of nutrients, this may be offset by the shorter cooking time. The smaller amount of water also causes less loss of nutrients.

Don't overcook potatoes. Potatoes cooked only until done are at their best in taste, food value, and appearance.

News of Interest To Mid-Missourians

LA MONTE — The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Friday at the home of Mrs. C. A. DeHaven.

President Mrs. Frank Breon opened the meeting by leading singing. Each officer was called on for a report. Plans were completed for the oyster supper and bazaar to be held soon.

A contributive dinner was served.

Mrs. Ira Williams, Sr. gave the program, "The Church Speaks Or Dies." Assisting her were Mrs. G. Swope, Mrs. Breon, Mrs. H. Ezell and Mrs. R. Crawford. A discussion on the church was held.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Esther Knowlton.

LaMonte Garden Club met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. William Bolton. Three visitors, Mrs. Perry Strole, Sedalia, and Mrs. Otis Rittman and son, and 14 members were present.

Mrs. Russell Wagenknecht, president, opened the meeting by reading "Be Thankful Unto Him and Bless His Name." A short business session was held and officers installed, received corsages.

The therapy committee members, Mrs. C. R. DeHaven, Mrs. Maurice Curtis and Miss Enid Johnson gave the program.

Guest speaker, Mrs. Strole, talked about therapy. She also showed Christmas gift suggestions.

The exhibit consisted of articles for shutins.

Miss Chance To Aid Poor Peru People

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer
LIMA, Peru (AP)—The United States seems to have missed a good chance to help the poorest people of Peru because of red tape, plus what South Americans consider an overdeveloped "banker mentality" in Washington.

The $10-million incident is small by comparison with overall U.S. assistance to Peru, which in the past two years has amounted to about $150 million with more to come. But it is important because the new government of President Fernando Belaunde Terry seems determined to move fast on reform and development programs.

The question is whether the United States can move fast also.

A few weeks ago Belaunde asked the United States for a pick and shovel loan of $10 million. He said he wanted to buy simple hand tools for the millions of Indian peasants in the mountainous interior of the country. He laid out a plan to set up 144 tool lending centers—one in each county seat.

Everyone agrees these simple tools are the things the Indians need most—to dig ditches for water supply, to build roads, to cultivate the land. Most have only primitive wooden digging sticks and short-handled wooden hoes.

U.S. officials here hope Belaunde's goal of raising the living standards of the Indians and integrating them into modern economic life can be realized. The Indians, about half Peru's 10 million population, are illiterate and poverty-stricken.

Belaunde first put his proposal before U.S. aid agency officials. They pointed out that the United States already had approved a limited roadbuilding plan, including a supply of bulldozers and similar heavy machinery, which would serve as a pilot project for an expanded program.

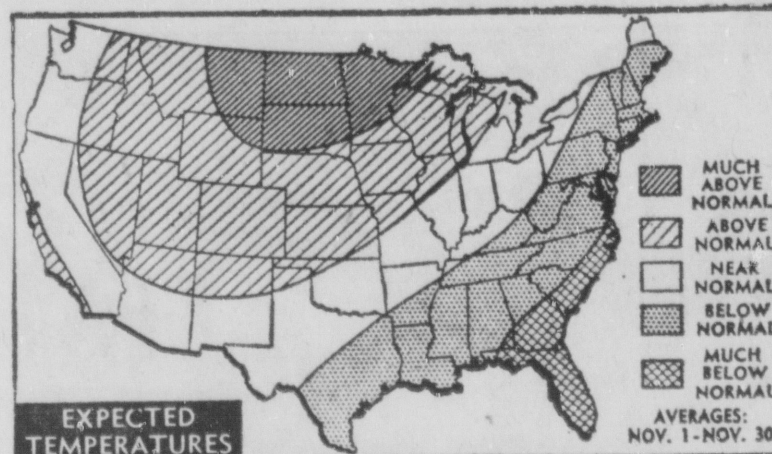

It takes an average of about two years to get approval for a new proposal, and Belaunde was asked to wait and see how the pilot project worked out.

Belaunde, a man in a hurry, turned to the export-import bank. He felt that the roadbuilding machines would not serve his broader purposes of improving farm production and water supply through self-help methods. Also it would cover only about five of his 144 rural centers.

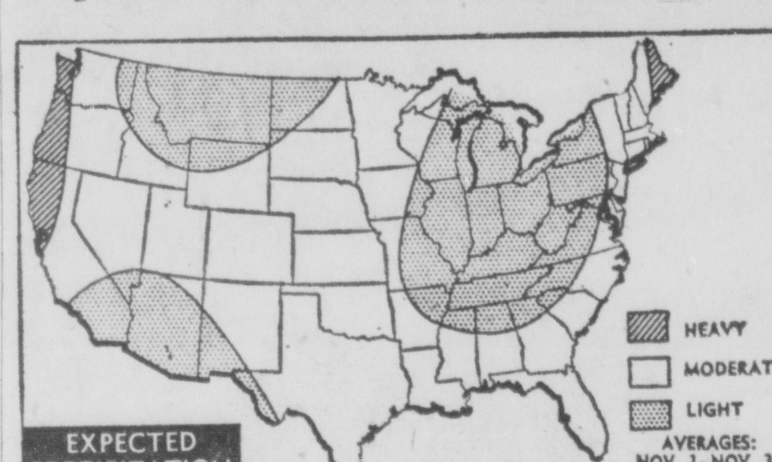

"The bank said it would finance the purchase of machinery, but not of tools," Belaunde told The Associated Press.

Bank officials said shovels, picks, hoes and crowbars which could be lost or stolen did not constitute a good risk.

Belaunde looked elsewhere. "We have not arranged for a $10-million loan from Finland for the tools," he said, "and we plan to set up the 144 pools of farm implements which will be available to the peasants."

Weatherman sees above normal temperatures in states along Atlantic and Gulf coasts, warmer days elsewhere.

Precipitation is likely to remain deficient over much of the East, also in northern Rockies and Southwest.

Marines Volunteer Blood For Boy, 10

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Bobby Martino Jr., 10, has suffered from spells of internal bleeding since infancy.

Bobby's family has been trying to cope with paying $70 a month for the two required transfusions.

The boy's sister and her girl friend, both 17, wrote their boy friends at the California Marine Base telling of the dilemma.

Pfc. John Carter and Pfc. Terry Farnsworth passed the word to their unit commander. By nightfall a volunteer drive had collected 500 pints of blood, with more Marines signing up to give.

Suffer Bad Setback

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Government troops were reported today to have suffered their worst setback against Communist guerrillas since the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem Nov. 1.

Reliable sources said about 55 government soldiers were killed and an equal number wounded in a battle with Viet Cong guerrillas in the Mekong River delta Wednesday.

Had Affair With Accused Wife Slayer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A petite mother of three has testified in the trial of T. Eugene Thompson on a murder charge that she had an illicit relationship with the defendant.

Jackie Okoneski Olesen testified Wednesday about trips to hotels and motels in other cities with Thompson over a period of years.

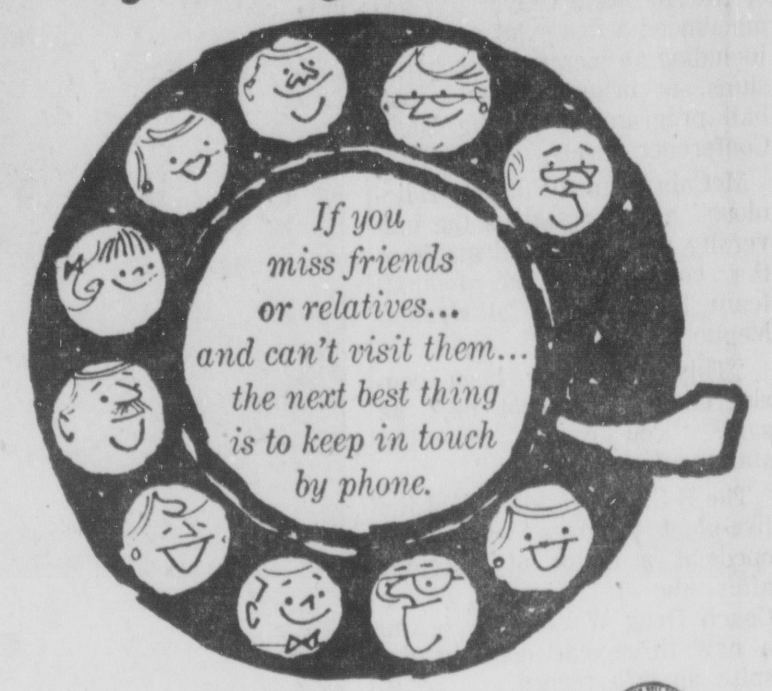

Prosecutor William Randall claims Thompson engineered the murder of his wife, Carol, 34, for the love of Mrs. Olesen and for the more than $1 million insurance he took out on his wife's life during the 13 months preceding her death last March 6. Thompson, 35, a St. Paul attorney, is charged with first degree murder.

Mrs. Olesen said she met Thompson in 1957 when she was a witness in a divorce case. She said she again met him in 1958 when she started a divorce action against her first husband.

Preceding her on the stand was her estranged second husband, Ronald Olesen. He said he had telephoned the Thompson home and, in the absence of Thompson, had told Mrs. Thompson to tell her husband that "I was tired of him bothering my wife and that if he did get him some way—legally or not quit it I was going to try to physically—to stop him."

Mark US Golf Founding

Get Together for a Toast To the 'Apple Tree Gang'

NEW YORK (AP)—The boys get together at a luxury midtown hotel tonight and drink a toast to the "Apple Tree Gang."

The occasion is the 75th anniversary of the founding of the St. Andrews Golf Club, formerly of Yonkers but now of Hastings-on-Hudson, N.Y.—the first and oldest golf club in the United States.

So, the party is actually to celebrate the birth of the frustrating old game in this country.

It started back in the 1880s. John Reid was a transplanted Scotsman who worked his way into a top executive position with an iron works and found time on his hands at his home in Yonkers, N.Y. He became bored with hunting and shooting. He decided he'd like to take a fling at golf, the game he had seen when he was a lad growing up in Dunfermline.

Learning that a friend and another ex-Scot, Robert Lockhart, was planning a visit to the old country, Reid asked Lockhart to pick up a set of golf clubs and some golf balls.

Lockhart wasn't satisfied with half-measures. He went to St. Andrews, the Scottish seaside town where the game supposedly was cradled, and visited the shop of Old Tom Morris where he bought three woods, three irons and two dozen gutta percha balls. He arranged to have the equipment shipped to New York.

The clubs arrived in dead of winter, with snow covering the ground. On Feb. 22, 1888—Washington's Birthday—however, the sun came out and Reid could restrain his enthusiasm no longer.

He got in touch with a few old sports cronies and they went to a field which Reid used as a cow pasture. There about three short holes of about 100 yards were laid out on the hilly ground and cups were dug with the head of a cleek.

There weren't enough clubs for everybody, so they were divided. Two men played while the others watched.

Reid's circle grew. Other clubs were ordered. Finally, it was decided a new course was needed. A cow pasture owned by a local butcher was selected at the northeast corner of Broadway and Shonnard Place. Six holes were laid out.

The greens were squares about 12 feet in diameter and not any smoother than the rest of the course.

The St. Andrews Golf Club was founded at a dinner at Reid's home Nov. 14, 1888—exactly 75 years ago tonight. Reid was elected president.

Wildcats Win Over Green Ridge

The Warsaw Wildcats advanced in the PBCAA Tournament Wednesday night at Warsaw by defeating the Green Ridge Tigers, 87-43. The win makes the Wildcats eligible to meet the Smithton Tigers, Thursday night.

Warsaw took an early lead in the game and it was never threatened. Green Ridge worked up to a scoring climax in the second period and then fell behind in the succeeding quarters.

Ken Shepherdson and Roger Pickard took scoring honors for the Wildcats with 24 and 23 points respectively. Wilfred Long Green Ridge with 12 points.

Score by quarters:

Warsaw 22 17 17 31—87
Green Ridge 6 18 10 9—43

Individual scoring: Warsaw—Ken Shepherdson, 24; Pickard, 23; Hirsch, 3; Jackman, 7; Parsons, 6; Habaggar, 6; Johnson, 8; Tom Shepherdson, 6; Barb, 2; Scott, 2. Green Ridge—Wilfred Long, 12; Lang, 10; Scott, 8; Ragar, 7; Young, 4; Dove, 2.

decided to extend Palisade Avenue farther north. Since this cut through the middle of the course, it was necessary to move again. This time the site was an apple orchard a quarter of a mile up the road.

A tent was pitched near the first tee and a big apple tree stood nearby where players often hung their jackets during hot weather. The players became known as the "Apple Tree Gang."

St. Andrews later moved to a spot on the Sawmill River Road and finally to its present location at Hastings-on-Hudson, where a full 18-hole course and stately club house were built.

New Yankee Pilot

Yogi Feels Like A Rookie Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Yogi Berra confesses he feels like a rookie all over again as he waits — with understandable impatience — for the 1964 spring training season to open.

"I can't wait for it to start," said the new manager of the New York Yankees. "I keep thinking about it all the time. I get butterflies in my stomach just thinking about it. I don't like having so much time to think about it. When you're in action, you don't have time to worry."

Did Yogi mean he was a little scared at the thought of managing what through the years has been the most powerful club in baseball? The word "scared" brought a slight reddening to Yogi's cheeks.

"Scared?" he repeated. "If I was scared do you think I would have taken a one-year contract? I coulda had two years but I turned it down."

Did he have any doubts about his ability to manage?

"I think I can manage but of course I've got to prove it not only to myself but to others," he replied.

Berra made his first official move as Yankee manager Tuesday when he announced the signing of Jimmy Gleeson as first base coach. Gleeson, a major league outfielder some 20 years ago, was Yogi's baseball coach in the Navy.

Turning to the team and its needs for 1964, Berra said he felt the Yankees were strong enough to win the American League pennant without any changes in personnel.

"We're strong every place," he said. "The pitching should be better because of the year's experience gained by the younger fellows. We've got a good bench, too.

"We can use another outfielder and a catcher. I'm gonna give Jake Gibbs a shot at the second or third-string catching job. And I want to look at this kid Jimenez (rookie outfielder Elvio Jimenez, brother of Kansas City outfielder Manny Jimenez)."

Old College Has Longest Loss Record

TROY, N.Y. (AP)—The nation's oldest privately endowed institution of science and engineering holds the longest current college football losing streak—31 games.

Although seven seniors at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute never have seen their football team win, the students don't seem too upset. There's grumbling among the alumni, however, and talk of a recruiting program.

The last victory was in 1959, when the Engineers won two and lost six.

RPI plays its sixth and final game of the season when it meets Rochester Saturday. If the Engineers lose, they will be just six games short of matching the record set by another engineering school, St. Paul, which lost 38 games in a row from 1948 through 1953.

Yet, there are no abolitionist-football movements, no cries for the coach' scalp, nor boycotting of games.

Average attendance at home games this season was 2,800.

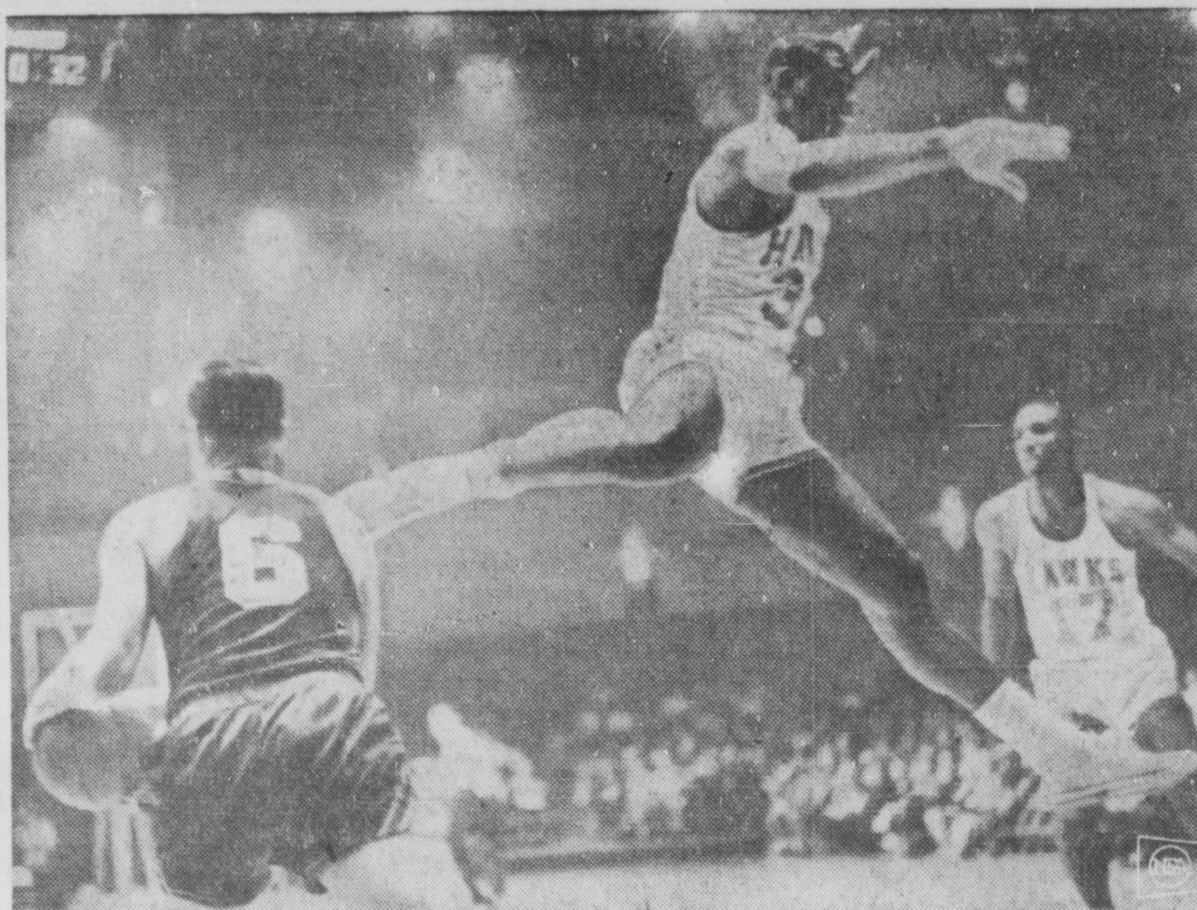

In fact, among the 3,000 undergraduate and 800 graduate students there is a feeling of pride that the institute, as one student put it, "can keep football in perspective when so many other colleges are over-emphasizing football."

The institute never has granted athletic scholarships. About 3,000 members of the Hudson-Mohawk chapter of the RPI Alumni Association met last week to discuss sports at the institute with Henry Kumpf, athletic director, and the members of his coaching staff.

They agreed that an intensive recruiting program was needed to attract scholar-athletes to RPI. No official sanction has been given, however.

TITLE-ATER—New York Giant quarterback Y. A. Tittle, who titillates the fans with his passing, thinks things over while taking exercises. Note the patch above his eye.

BRIDGES SPAN—This is not a ballet dancer doing a gran jete. It is 235-pound Bill Bridges of the Hawks attempting to block a pass by the New York Knickerbockers' Tom Gola, 6. The Hawks' Charley Vaughn, 17, watches the action in St. Louis.

Not Highest Pay

Koufax Demands A Double Salary

NEW YORK (AP)—The word from Los Angeles is that Sandy Koufax is demanding $65,000, exactly double his estimated salary in 1963 when he topped all major league pitchers with 25 victories and added two more in the World Series against the New York Yankees.

Should the spectacular southpaw succeed in his reported demand, he will become the highest paid pitcher in Dodge history but not in baseball. Not even among today's pitchers. Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's indestructible southpaw, drew $77,000 last season.

The highest salary a pitcher ever drew was the $86,000 Bobby Feller earned with the Cleveland Indians in 1946 although his base pay was $50,000.

"In addition to the $50,000 base pay," Feller recalled recently, "I was to get five cents for every admission over 500,000 and $1,000 for each game I won over 15."

Had Spahn accepted a similar arrangement based on attendance, he would have topped Feller's all-time high for pitchers with plenty to spare.

Spahn had one of his infrequent non-20-game winning seasons in 1952 and was having some contract difficulty with Lou Perini, owner of the Boston Braves, that winter.

Perini felt that Spahn should accept a cut in salary because of his 14-19 win and lost record. Spahn, who had earned $25,000 in 1952, felt he deserved a raise because of his low earned run average and the fact that the Braves were breaking in a new team.

"I don't recall the exact figure," Spahn said today, via long distance telephone from his home in Hartshorne, Okla.

"But Mr. Perini finally offered me a choice of a straight $25,000 salary or $20,000 plus 10 cents a head for every admission over 600,000.

"Anyway, after checking the 1952 attendance figure in Boston (281,278), I decided to play it safe and accepted the flat figure."

The rest is history. Perini moved his Braves franchise to Milwaukee the following March and the Braves set a National League attendance record of 1,807,526.

Simple arithmetic shows that Spahn would have received a whopping $110,752.60 in addition to the base pay of $25,000.

Unbeaten, but tied Wittenberg of Ohio moved up a notch to third place in this week's poll with 39 points following a 34-13 triumph over Akron, Massachusetts, which played a scoreless tie with Harvard in its first game of the season, tied for fourth at 31 points with St. John's of Minnesota and South Dakota State.

Florida A&M, third a week ago, dropped to seventh with 24 points followed by San Diego State, with 18, McNeese, La. State, with 16, and Slippery Rock, Pa. with 15.

North Illinois Replaced By Blue Hens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The University of Delaware Blue Hens replaced Northern Illinois today as the nation's No. 1 small college football team in the weekly Associated Press poll by the margin of a single point.

The two unbeaten and untied teams monopolized the voting by the eight-man panel of sports-writers.

The Northern Illinois Huskies, who have won nine games, polled four of the eight first-place votes to three for the Blue Hens.

The Easterners, seven victories on a perfect slate, beat out the Midwesterners, 74 points to 73, on the basis of four second-place votes and one third.

The Huskies received one second-place vote and three thirds. Points were awarded on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

Southwest Texas, another team with a perfect mark at 8-0, received the remaining first-place vote, but missed making the Top Ten.

Northern Illinois, with George Bork becoming the first forward passer to amass 3,000 yards in one season, completed its regular season last Saturday with a 27-21 victory over Central Michigan. The Huskies now are idle until their appearance Nov. 30 in the Mineral Bowl game at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Delaware whipped Temple 32-23 last Saturday. The Blue Hens play at Rutgers this Saturday and close their season against Bucknell on Nov. 23.

Unbeaten, but tied Wittenberg of Ohio moved up a notch to third place in this week's poll with 39 points following a 34-13 triumph over Akron, Massachusetts, which played a scoreless tie with Harvard in its first game of the season, tied for fourth at 31 points with St. John's of Minnesota and South Dakota State.

Florida A&M, third a week ago, dropped to seventh with 24 points followed by San Diego State, with 18, McNeese, La. State, with 16, and Slippery Rock, Pa. with 15.

Perennial Problem

Irishman Giving Orioles Headache

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles have problems, like who should they get to manage their baseball club, how to win the American League pennant (which has eluded them despite bright prospects) and a perennial problem from a minority stockholder in Kansas City, Mo.

From his cubbyhole desk in a somewhat less than ornate restaurant and bar, a puckish Irishman named Lloyd W. Mayhan has been bombarding the old St. Louis Browns and the Baltimore Orioles (since 1954) with letters demanding a dividend on his (shares or share) of stock.

So far he has received two tickets to the All-Star game played in Kansas City in 1960—and a ticking file or polite letters explaining (A) that the directors do not see fit to declare a dividend "at this time" and other somewhat less polite hints that (B) they appreciate his advice and suggestions but the directors and management will operate the club as they deem best and disburse their funds as they believe to be prudent.

Mayhan, better known as Speed to the clientele that have patronized his establishment since 1927, has never met the officers of the Orioles, a manager of the team, a player or even another stockholder.

But he hears from them periodically. For instance, the club treasurer pontifically wrote to him: "In formulating the operating policy of the ball club, management has to determine what is the best course of action in order ultimately to field a championship team. It is not considered to be in the best interest of the club to declare a dividend. I am sure you understand and can agree."

Did stockholder Mayhan agree?

"Hell no, but there isn't much I can do about it," he says with a grin. "All I did was ask for even a check for just 50 cents so I could hang it on the wall."

Mayhan is not from Baltimore but spent his youth in St. Louis where he became enamored of the Browns early in the century. These were lean years but he held fast and, in 1950, bought his stock.

"I'll never tell how much I've got; just say it's a good amount," he says.

There are those among his old friends who say it is one share. Whatever it is, he makes a big thing of it.

The stock cost him $7 a share and how is worth $18, he says.

Some More Predictions From Hoople

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Upset Champion

GREETINGS, my dear friends!

I call you my friends although it is obvious some of you are not.

For instance, read what Clancy DeLancy, the bard of Brooklyn, has to say:

"Dear Major: Why don't you run for Congress? Anyone who can make as many bum guesses as you would be a sensation in Washington. Your dear friend Clancy DeLancy."

"Dear friend indeed! I would be the first to admit that I am guilty of an occasional slight miscalculation, but let me remind you just a few of the juicy upsets the Hoople System has forecast this year.

Early in the season I gave you the Air Force over Washington, then Oklahoma to humble the 1962 national champions, Southern California.

And after that I correctly forecast Georgia's startling 31-14 conquest of Miami, the Syracuse 9-0 blanking of favored Penn State, North Carolina State's amazing 21-7 victory over the undefeated Duke Blue Devils.

And how about the Louisiana State 14-0 triumph over the rugged Florida Gators and the 30-13 rout of Wisconsin by Michigan State?

What other forecaster has scored with as many big upsets? None, I'll wager — harrumph!

Never one to rest on his laurels I have several colossal reversals included in this week's card.

My three-star special for Saturday is Yale to thrash Ivy League leader Princeton, 27-8—hakk!

Now go with the forecast.

Twins Wed Twins and Lead Double Lives for Certain

By GENE SMITH
The Carthage Press
For The Associated Press
CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP)—Life is really double harness for Harmon and Herman Loveless and their wives.

Both the male and female Lovelesses are identical twins who've made their lives a four-some since their double wedding on Oct. 8, 1919, in Carthage.

The boys were born near Carthage on Dec. 13, 1894. Their future brides were born eight months later in nearby Alba.

Herman and Harmon attended elementary school and business college together, and both graduated in 1918 from the Kansas City Veterinary College. They opened their practice together in the little southwest Missouri town of Greenfield; and, after their marriage, they and their carbon-copy wives became entertainers.

Billed as the "Loveless Twins Singing Quartette," they travelled the old Chautauqua circuit for 10 years, appearing in 40 states before they quit and the boys joined the Bureau of Animal Industry of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Herman and Harmon served 27 years each in the Bureau and never were separated. They retired in January of 1960 and moved to Colorado Springs.

The two couples share the same house in Colorado Springs, all use the same bank account

("When we have a bank account," said one), and own everything in joint tenancy with right of survivorship. Neither has children.

The brothers serve as co-treasurers of the International Twins Association, and they and their wives attend each of the ITA's annual conventions. To date they've collected a dozen prizes as the most look-alike twins attending.

They've also appeared on the Groucho Marx show, on Bob Collier's "To Tell the Truth," on "Two For the Money" and on many other radio and television programs.

Just for the record, they're not quite identical! Both Herman and Harmon stand 5-feet-8 inches, but Harmon weighs 180 to Herman's 177. Lola, Harmon's wife, stands 5-feet-6 and weighs 120 pounds, while Lela stands 5-feet-5 1/2 and weighs 117.

Since that's too close a resemblance for most acquaintances to sort out, they report they create comic scenes every place they go.

Asked if they ever had trouble telling one another apart during their courting days, Harmon grinned and said:

"A little, but you soon hit the mark, you know."

A reporter interviewing them commented he'd always be afraid of hugging the wrong woman in such a situation.

Lela Loveless laughed and said:

"Well, it really wouldn't make much difference..."

The Lovelesses recently made their annual pilgrimage to the Ozarks to visit relatives, renew old acquaintances and hunt arrowheads and rocks, which they collect with enthusiasm.

Job Creation Plugged By Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, carrying his campaign for the Republican presidential non ination before the AFL-CIO and its 13.5 million members, said today that creating more jobs is the nation's "first order of business."

The New York governor's call for a tax cut tied to strict control of federal spending fell largely on deaf ears at the opening session of the labor organization's convention.

The policy-making Executive Council has let it be known the AFL-CIO fears unemployment far more than federal deficits.

Rockefeller proposed a national job information and placement program, including loans for jobless workers to move where they could find employment.

His remarks were in a prepared address.

He spoke at the convention prepared to consider resolutions demanding a $10-billion tax cut, a drastic measure in the minimum wage, a 35-hour week and a broad range of federal programs to provide jobs for the nation's 3.5 million unemployed.

Rockefeller came to the AFL-CIO convention from Miami Beach, where he told a meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association Wednesday that he wants to be president so he can return the United States to the principles on which it was built.

Nehru Shows Increasing Frustrations

NEW DELHI, India (AP)— These problems are causing to the contrary. But he continues to push himself as he has been for almost 30 years.

As he marks his 74th birthday today in waning health, Jawaharlal Nehru shows signs of increasing frustration with India's difficulties.

He has been thinking out loud of resigning the prime minister's job and trying to influence India indirectly the way Mohandas K. Gandhi tried to do.

Some believe Nehru's remarks are intended primarily to shock his lagging followers into reform. But the possibility remains that he might quit.

Several of Nehru's recent comments have indicated frustration over factionalism and corruption in his Congress party, over the disappointing pace of economic development and over the hostile deadlocks with neighboring China and Pakistan.

Nehru's poor health and his talk of leaving the government have encouraged rumors that he is seeking to make his only child, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, the prime minister and to direct the government through her.

As Nehru's health wanes, the possibility also grows of a shadow government rather than clear-cut removal of Nehru and succession through normal party machinations.

Nehru looks to be in failing health despite official assertions

World News In Review

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's government announced Monday night it executed four agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. They were convicted of infiltrating Cuba for subversive activities.

The four, tried by a military court Monday, were identified as Antonio Cobelas Rodriguez, Orlando Sanchez Zaraza, Luis Millan Rodriguez and Jose Bolanos Morales.

A government announcement said their assignment was to "draft recruits for CIA activities and convince them to leave Cuba for the United States where they would be trained and infiltrated back into our country." It said they came to Cuba aboard a boat from Florida.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Soviet Cosmonaut Andrian Nikolayev says the Soviet Union is planning a spaceship that will sustain life in outer space for three years—the estimated time required for a round trip to Mars or Venus.

He said manned planetary space flights entail untold amounts of research.

Nikolayev told scientists at the Indian National Physical Laboratory Monday that the round trip would actually take 14 months, but spacemen would have to spend almost two years on the planets to wait for a proper orbital position for the return flight.

Harlem Negroes Indifferent Toward Civil Rights Efforts

EDITOR'S NOTE — Throughout the South the fight for civil rights rages among Negro groups. But in New York's Harlem things are different. Instead of militancy, indifference; instead of unity, division. In the third of three articles on Negro communities in Northern cities, Associated Press staff writer Junius Griffin, a Negro, tells of the squalor, the despair, seething turbulence, and the status of the civil rights fight in Harlem, the nation's largest "Black Metropolis."

By JUNIUS GRIFFIN
NEW YORK (AP) — Much of Harlem, the nation's largest "Black Metropolis," is cool to the point of indifference toward the civil rights struggle.

But behind this indifference lies a seething hatred of the white community by lower class and unemployed Negroes. Many also loath the Negro leadership, which they say has brought false hopes of relieving overnight the community's social ills.

"Our leaders do a lot of talking but take no action," said Rose Graham, 41, a mother of three daughters who live in a run-down tenement on West 124th Street.

Mrs. Graham is on relief. Her daughter's ages range from 11 to 15. All are in junior high school.

"I'm especially concerned about my oldest girl," she said. "The drunks and tramps in this neighborhood might do anything to her."

The Graham family is one of 15 that live in the five-story walk-up.

While cooking a meal of red beans and rice over an ancient gas range, Mrs. Graham talked about her plight.

"What young girl would want to bring her friends into this firetrap?" she asked. "It's clean, yes, but look around you."

You enter the apartment through the kitchen door. Under worn linoleum, a rotting wooden floor creaks. The plaster is peeling from the walls and ceilings in every room. Furnishings are spare. Rent: $45.14 a month. Are you warm during the winter?

"Yes, but I'm glad the radiators in the hall have been removed," she said. "Because now we won't have tramps sleeping in the halls when cold weather comes."

I told her that I had noticed a vacancy sign in front of a renovated adjoining building. Why didn't she move there?

"The rent there is $35 a week for 1½ rooms," she said. "Who can afford it?"

"I'm just one of many living under these conditions in Harlem, and if our civil rights leaders would leave their ivory towers, they might find out what our needs are."

"No more demonstrating for me until someone demonstrates they care about me and my daughters."

Like many of Harlem's half-million Negroes who cannot afford high rents, Mrs. Graham must either live in squalor or in public housing.

Thomas Pipkin, 36, a post office employee, said "there is just no general interest among Harlemites for things like civil rights. Most people just don't care. Our neighborhood community programs should include self help. There should be more demonstrations in New York, but we are tired of displaying ourselves in the streets."

A similar opinion was expressed by Frankie Brown of 373 W. 116th St. "Our Harlem leaders are adequate for some people, but they are not concerned enough with the fact that we must help ourselves."

"There should be more done to relieve the community of derelicts, but Harlem's main concern has been to push for full social integration rather than integration that means economic and political equality."

Some of the derelicts were just across the street shooting dice under the watchful eyes of a police officer on the next corner.

I joined the game, lost $2 in about five seconds, but was able to start a conversation. When I told one of the street gamblers that I had to leave and go to work, he said, "You're lucky, most of us haven't worked in more than a year."

"We had a chance to get jobs as construction helpers, but the civil rights groups want us to become skilled laborers now and hell, we don't have the qualifications for those type jobs."

Miss Sandra Tate, 22, said, "Civil rights activities in Harlem have not been particularly inspiring."

"Our demonstrations seem to lack drive mostly because the leaders — political and civic — do not seem to be too interested in keeping the people aroused on the issues of equality," she said. "Harlem leaders are too concerned with their individual security."

The Rev. Richard A. Hilderbrand, executive secretary of the Harlem chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, disagreed.

"It could very well be that Miss Tate has come into contact with Negro leaders with qualities she described, but I doubt the validity of such a charge in a general sense. We all are not that way."

Edward M. Davis, a leader in

Trigere Gowns Independent In Fashion Lines

NEW YORK (AP) — American fashion's little French girl, Pauline Trigere, Wednesday introduced a spring collection as independent as Charles de Gaulle himself.

Not at all concerned that other American designers are nipping in waistslines again for spring, Miss Trigere created a soft silhouette that "allows a woman to have a martini or a dessert now and then."

Close to shoulders and bust, the fabric hovers but does not get too close to the middle. However, the crisp silks, chiffons and linens are slim at the hips.

While other American designers are plunging necklines to blushing depths, Miss Trigere has bared backs of dresses worn under short capes and sleeveless blouses jackets called cabouchons.

Even short party dresses were strapless and bareback but not immodest in front. Formal ball gowns covered neck to ankle, and, cut on the bias, looked as comfortable as old bathrobes.

Not all of Miss Trigere's costumes ignored the waistline, though. White kid belts girdled the young models' middles, setting off white knit dickeres and fake blouse cuffs.

the African Nationalist movement, said: "Harlem's concern with the civil rights movement is non-existent. The people can be easily aroused but there is no follow through."

"The old-line leadership is nonmilitant and the young people who are militant are too inexperienced and show a lack of responsible concern."

The attitudes of the Harlem community have changed but not the conditions under which Negroes live.

There are still more than 20,000 jobless. More than 12,450 receive public assistance.

Some Negro attorneys, physicians, businessmen, teachers and other professional groups have diverted their attention to the social season.

Instead of civil rights meetings, many can be found nightly at cocktail parties, fashion shows or at downtown integrated social functions.

In one Harlem neighborhood, bounded by Park and Fifth Avenues and by 126th and 132nd Streets, live 7,890 people of whom 7,678 are Negroes. This area has an unemployment rate of 9.7 per cent compared with 5.1 per cent for New York City as a whole. Here, rental per room is higher than the city average and the extent of dilapidation of rental property is far greater.

A new public school slated to open between Seventh and Eighth Avenues could well be delayed because of conditions on 126th Street, between Seventh and St. Nicholas Avenues, where narcotic addicts make their daily purchases from a man with a brown paper bag or a man carrying a black attache case who poses as an insurance man.

Wine bottles and garbage litter the doorways. Dice games are floating and continuous.

Here, a kid becomes an adult before he reaches his teens. An eight-year-old urchin, asked what he expected from Santa Claus this Christmas, replied: "Don't turn me on, man."

Nothing has caused more controversy in Harlem during recent years than the black nationalist organizations. There are more than two dozen Afro-American nationalist organizations in Harlem with a combined membership of not more than 5,000.

The Harlem chapter of the NAACP has a membership of 9,000.

The Rev. Mr. Hildebrand, who heads the chapter, says, "For years we in Harlem have addressed ourselves to problems of the South. No more. We have now turned our heads to local problems."

But he may be too late. The highly disciplined Muhammad's Mosque No. 7, led by Black Muslim leader Malcolm X. Shabbazz, did this months ago.

Now, it appears, the Black Muslims' organization is about the only one that can communicate with the man in the street in Harlem.

$500,000 Bond Set On Big Sam Accardi

NEW YORK (AP) — Settimo (Big Sam) Accardi, 61, accused narcotics kingpin, is being held in bail of a half-million dollars. Accardi, brought back from his native Italy after three years of legal maneuvering, was arraigned Wednesday in federal court as a bail jumper. Once a lieutenant of the late vice king Charles (Lucky) Luciano, Accardi jumped bails totaling $91,500 in 1955.

U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau insisted on the $500,000 bond—one of the highest in federal court history—for "an extremely bad bail risk."

Troops Take Home Pass, Spurn Steak

BERGSTROM AIR FORCE BASE, Tex. (AP)—Troops leading the way home on the big lift from Germany were typical soldiers—they chose a kiss from the wife or girlfriend instead of a steak.

The first C135 jet transport returning men of the 2nd Armored Division from maneuvers in Germany arrived Tuesday afternoon from near Frankfurt. It started a series of 87 flights due here about 2½ hours apart until Nov. 21.

Other planes will land at Gray Air Force Base, near Killeen, and Connally Air Force Base, near Waco, until 222 flights have returned the 16,000 troops flown to Europe Oct. 22-23.

Exercise Big Lift was designed to prove the United States' ability to move combat forces overseas quickly and in large numbers. A seven-day maneuver with the 3rd Armored Division ended Tuesday.

While the 73 men and officers on the first flight waited for U.S. custom agents to check baggage they took a straw vote.

"Do you want to go first to the mess hall where we have some big thick steaks waiting to feed you or would you rather skip that to see your wives and families?" a welcoming officer asked.

There were just two half-hearted votes for the steaks.

The returnees were transported by bus to Ft. Hood, 70 miles north, where they were reunited with loved ones.

"It was a very successful

The man the folks of this town knew as John Paul—the officer who made more than 100 arrests in a month—is held in lieu of bonds totaling $3,000. The many arrests led to an investigation of Paul's background.

Sheriff Hiram Cook of Henry County said Tuesday that Paul turned out to be John Nick Pavlakos, 21, of Decatur, who was fined $300 for impersonating an officer in Gwinnett County last year.

Peak Production Week For Auto Manufacturers

DETROIT (AP)—U. S. auto plants turned out more cars last week than in any previous week in their history as they strove to meet customer demand.

Output for the week was estimated unofficially at over 188,000 cars, thus erasing the old production high mark of 184,120 set in April 1955.

An official count set October's production at 799,383 cars—the biggest total every in a month. The old mark of 794,168 was set in March of 1955.

Indicating the strong demand for new cars, 33 auto assembly plants were operated overtime last Saturday.

General Motors had 14 plants on overtime, Ford had 15. Chrysler Corp. worked its Los Angeles force an extra day, as well as those in the Detroit,

200,000 Try Suicide Each Year In US

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Two million Americans—more than one in 100—already have tried to commit suicide.

Some 200,000 try each year to take their own lives and 25,000 to 35,000 or more actually succeed.

Dr. Louis I. Dublin, a famous statistician, cited these estimates today in urging that suicide be recognized "as a serious public health problem" and that Plymouth and Hamtramck, Mich. plants.

American Motors plant worked overtime Saturday too. Studebaker Corp. worked a five day week at its assembly units.

General Motors accounted for just over 50 per cent of production last week: Ford about 29, Chrysler 13.5, American Motors 6.2 and Studebaker about 1 per cent.

communities and health officials act now to prevent this toll.

The attempts at suicide all represent "cries for help," he told the American Public Health Association.

"Because they involve young people for the most part, their numbers accumulate over the years," he said. "I estimate that today there are at least two million persons alive in the United States who have a history of one or more such attempts."

"These people who survive this searing emotional experience constitute a pool from which the completed suicides of succeeding years are largely drawn."

Of those who try suicide, most are under 30, and are mostly young women, Dr. Dublin said. Of those who succeed, most are well over 50, and men outnumber women 3-1.

People kill themselves to collect insurance, or because they are dying of incurable disease, but the majority are emotionally or mentally overwhelmed or upset, said Dr. Dublin, retired second vice president and statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

But if people with problems can get help and sympathy, he said, "experience has shown that suicide is, to a degree at least, a preventable condition."

Dr. Dublin said coordination of the social, medical, and psychological services in many communities is needed to rescue the would-be suicide "by offering a helping hand" night or day.

People In The News

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—While 4,000 music lovers waited, Pablo Casals paced backstage, stage hands scurried about and police sounded an SOS.

Casals, who was to conduct the New Orleans Philharmonic-Symphony in his oratorio, "El Pessebre," arrived at the hall without his score.

After 15 minutes, the 86-year-old master of the cello began the concert using an unmarked score.

But cab driver Ralph W. Swafford had heard the police alarm. He rushed to the hall and delivered the score, which Casals had left in the cab.

DETROIT (AP) — Methodist Bishop Herbert Welch of New York, who was 101 years old last week, offers the "Welch quadrilateral law of longevity" for living to a ripe old age:

"First, moderation in work whenever circumstances permit; second, a prohibition of worry; third, a little play; and fourth and most important, a trust in God."

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Dr. George Gallup, the poll taker, says candidates for president should abandon barnstorming campaigns and make only six major speeches. He proposed that the speeches be broadcast with telecast nationwide with no competing programs allowed.

"It's the least we can expect of the networks and ask of our people," said Gallup in a speech.

City Dividing Line Planned On Bridge

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A line will be painted across the Paseo bridge that crosses the Missouri River between Kansas City and North Kansas City to eliminate situations like one that happened Tuesday.

Kansas City police answered an accident call and determined that the collision occurred inside the North Kansas City limits.

That city's patrolman, Ronald E. Brant, arrived and said experience led him to believe the smashup was in Kansas City.

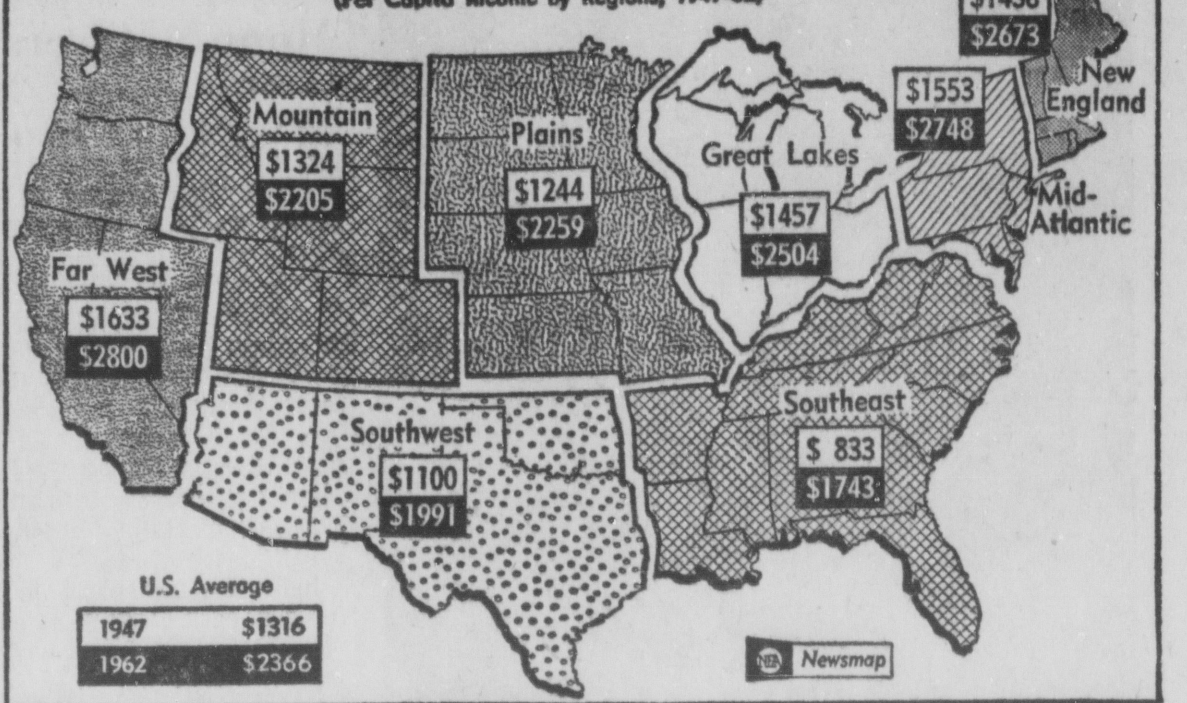

The officers drew an imaginary line down the middle of the river and decided Kansas City got it by a couple of feet.

The wreck was a rear-end collision involving two trucks.

to the New Jersey Taxpayers Association at Newark.

"Present campaigning requires not brains but an iron constitution and does damage to a candidate's health and sanity," Gallup said.

PATTERNS OF EMPLOYMENT—More Americans are earning—on the average—more money, no matter what section of the nation is examined. Newsmap, comparing per capita income in 1947 with income in 1962, reveals that the far western states led in both years. Actually, however, the West's lead over the rest of the nation has declined slightly; per capita income is now more evenly distributed, partly because of the migration of many industries. Integration Orders Close Substations For US Post Office

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Two Savannah brothers say Post Office Department orders for them to integrate their drug store lunch counters have caused them to give up their postal substation contracts.

Clarence Sauters said Tuesday he has asked the department to cancel his substation contract within 30 days.

His brother, Joseph, who operates another store, said he

To Whom Tribute Is Due

Since this is Youth Appreciation Week sponsored by the Optimist clubs we would like to stretch its application to include also one who has passed maturity yet is considered by his elders as a young fellow.

In his appearance with the Sedalia Symphony Orchestra before a Sedalia audience, Chester O'Bannon, bass, baritone, displayed the freshness, vigor and enthusiasm so characteristic of young persons. With his first solo he captured the audience.

Before them was a young man who has established an impressive background throughout the country as a soloist in the few short years since he graduated from Smith-Cotton High school in 1954. The auditorium stage from which he sang Tuesday night was also the same locale for his appearances with the Sedalia Men's Choral club nine years ago.

Back home again he was accorded public appreciation as members of his and his wife's family also listened to this accomplished singer.

And there in the orchestra, too, were younger musicians playing in harmony with some of the older personnel who have been with the Symphony since its inception in 1935 when the capable conductor, Abe Rosenthal, first lifted his baton before the original group.

These musical pioneers must share with the younger ones Sedalia's appreciation for perpetuation of the community's cultural atmosphere through maintenance of the Sedalia Symphony Orchestra and the presentation of so many professional guest artists year after year.

MEXICO LEDGER: The Importance of Out-State Missouri.—More and more so-called political experts are saying out-state Missouri means nothing; St. Louis city and county control Missouri.

For example, they point to the results of the last General Election in which John Dalton became Governor of Missouri.

St. Louis City and St. Louis County gave him a total 400,861 votes.

He won over his Republican opponent by 303,069 votes.

Obviously, St. Louis city and county won for John Dalton.

Obviously, out-state means nothing. As a matter of fact, in this race, add Kansas City's Jackson county's vote for Governor Dalton — 150,738 — and his total metropolitan vote was greater than his vote in the rest of Missouri.

To be exact:

St. Louis city and county—400,861
Jackson county—150,738

Total—551,599

All out-state Missouri—543,601

But is this the whole story?

Not at all.

John Dalton got into the General Election by winning the Democratic Primary.

And those candidates for state office today who are ignoring out-state Missouri would do well to study the Primary vote in the Dalton race.

Here is the arithmetic:

In St. Louis city, Governor Dalton got 84,189 votes.

In St. Louis county he got 66,301.

The combined total is 150,490.

In out-state Missouri he got 230,281 votes.

That's right, 230,281.

Let these totals be fair warning to those candidates who ignore out-state Missouri.

There is a great deal more to being elected to office in Missouri than spending

Goldwater Eases Away From Birchers

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—One of the tough problems facing Sen. Barry Goldwater is to squirm away from his John Birch friends without actually antagonizing them.

What most people don't know is that Birchers and friends have been staunch and generous contributors to Barry's campaign. He cannot therefore abruptly break off the romance.

In his last election, $2,000 came from the John Birch boss, Robert Welch, himself. Another $6,000 was donated by H. L. Hunt, the Texas oil tycoon, who bankrolls extremist causes.

Chicago's America for Americans committee, an extremist group, dropped another $3,000 into Goldwater's campaign chest. There was even a contribution from the old-line America first crusader, Robert E. Wood.

Goldwater has tried to let the John Birch Society down gently by disassociating himself from its leader, but not its members.

This does not appear to have offended Robert Welch, who has said of Goldwater: "The one man who comes nearest to measuring up to all the needs and qualifications, whom we see on the political horizon at the present time, is Barry Goldwater. I'd love to see him president of the United States, and maybe some day we will."

Indeed Goldwater was one of the 15 executive members of the Committee Against the Summit Conference, which Welch has claimed was a "front group" for the John Birch Society.

Barry and the Birch Line

Meanwhile Goldwater has echoed many of the society's pet peeves.

In a Jackson, Miss., speech four years ago, Goldwater called Chief Justice Earl Warren a socialist unqualified to head the Supreme Court. The John Birch Society has demanded Warren's impeachment.

Only a year ago, Goldwater charged that U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, another favorite John Birch target, "has consistently urged a soft policy toward communism."

The Birchers are also suspicious that the nation's colleges spread subversive ideas. On at least one occasion last year, Goldwater attacked the University of Colorado as a haven for un-American ideas.

During the heyday of the late Senator Joe McCarthy, Goldwater was one of his most outspoken supporters. He denounced the Senate censure of McCarthy as "a campaign to get even with America's foremost fighter against communism" and accused the overwhelming majority of senators who voted for censure of performing "the dirtiest day's work in their life."

Despite the presidential temptation, Goldwater has by no means suppressed his extremist views. The extremists applauded, for instance, when Goldwater suggested that field commanders overseas should be authorized to use nuclear warheads whenever they saw fit.

Many a moderate, recalling that Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker was a recent field commander in Europe, doesn't relish the idea of letting field commanders make nuclear decisions.

The last report on Walker: He was flying the American flag upside down on his front lawn as a signal that the nation is in distress.

Merry-Go-Round

Rockettism is getting contagious. Dick Bolling of Kansas City, one of the bright young congressmen around the late Sam Rayburn, has decided to do a Nelson with his wife Barbara. She is now in Nevada. Dick will marry Mrs. Jim Akin of Dallas, a maury maverick Texas New Dealer who was named "Jim" because her father wanted a boy. Mrs. Akins dislikes Republicans so much, especially the Bruce Alger brand, that she has resolved to smoke cigars until Dallas defeats Alger and elects a Democrat to Congress. . . . Aristotle Onassis also appears ready to do a Rockefeller. His romance with opera singer Maria Callas is reported on the rocks and his ambition to be the brother-in-law of President Kennedy is booming. Reports are that Jackie wasn't able to persuade her sister, Princess Radziwill, to relinquish residence on the Onassis yacht.

The World Today

Multiplying Problems For The U.S.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy hardly had the words out of his mouth when there was more trouble, this time of a kind which may in time be a disaster for the United States.

In his first State of the Union message to Congress almost three years ago Kennedy, after listing the problems ahead at home, said "all these pale when placed beside those which confront us around the world."

"Each day the crises multiply. Each day their solution grows more difficult."

He cited trouble spots in Asia, Africa, Latin America. And as the years passed the troubles multiplied and waned while fresh ones developed.

Last Friday, talking to the Protestant Council in New York, he said the family of man should be at peace with one another. But he said:

"They are not. Within the last month the world has witnessed active or threatened hostilities in a dozen or more disputes independent of the struggle between communism and free choice — disputes between Africans and Europeans in Angola, between North African neighbors in the Maghreb, between two Arab states over Yemen, between India and Pakistan, between Indonesia and Malaysia, Cambodia and Viet Nam, Ethiopia and Somalia and a long list of others."

He might have mentioned that just one week before, the generals in South Viet Nam threw out President Diem and his brother, both of whom were killed. But last Friday he couldn't have known what was to happen Wednesday.

Early in the day the Iraqi government had to smash a revolution and later in the day came the news of grave consequence to the United States that Cambodia may turn its back on the United States.

Worse, still, it may throw in its lot with Red China. Cambodia, in the southern tip of Asia, lies partly against Thailand, partly against South Viet Nam.

It has 6 million people living under the guidance of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, 43, who renounced the Cambodian throne to be the political leader of the Cambodians.

He has been a self-proclaimed neutral between the forces of the West and communism, but accepted help from both sides. For instance: guns and fighter planes from Russia, more than $366 million worth of military and economic help from the United States.

This could be interpreted as trying to play both ends against the middle, not taking sides until he saw which way the cat was going to jump.

For the United States, holding South Viet Nam has been a prolonged and costly adventure, with more than $4 billion in aid going to Viet Nam where more than 100 Americans have lost their lives in the war against the Communist guerrillas of North Viet Nam.

If Viet Nam was lost to communism, it's a safe bet all Southeast Asia would be in time. Last September-Prince Sihanouk said he was convinced the Communists already have won the battle for South Viet Nam.

And he said he felt his own neutral country eventually would fall to communism. Last August Sihanouk cut Cambodia's ties with Viet Nam because of the crackdown on the Buddhists by the then President Diem.

And he has complained that Cambodian exiles—his enemies—were in Viet Nam making broadcasts against him with transmitters which, he said, were supported in part by U.S. assistance.

Wednesday he sent out the word Cambodia would cut its ties with the United States, too, and after Jan. 1, 1964, refuse any more American aid, and abandon its neutrality unless the anti-Sihanouk broadcasts were stopped.

The State Department was upset. Worse news was to come. Later Wednesday Red China said Sihanouk had sent word to Peking, pledging close friendship and cooperation.

If the Red Chinese, with Sihanouk's blessing, move into Cambodia the very thing this country tried most to prevent—Red China's direct influence in Southeast Asia—would have come about.

This is still a murky situation. Sihanouk may not take the final step of fully abandoning his neutrality and throwing open the Cambodian doors to Red China.

But the way he's playing the game it's like sticking his hand into the tiger's mouth to stroke his tongue.

We the Women

Little Ways to Please Him

by Ruth Millett,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A wife writes: "I always dress nicely when I go out with my husband, but he complains that I don't care how I look around the house. I think he's unfair to expect me to wear my good things just to sit around in the evening and watch television."

I wonder why it has not occurred to this wife that she and her husband might not just sit around and watch television every evening if she took the time and trouble to look neat and pretty just for him. He might very well be tempted to suggest that they go out for the evening just because she looks so attractive.

Too many wives plan their wardrobes with only one idea in mind, to look well dressed when they know they are going out somewhere. Yet, with a limited budget, they could have an attractive at-home wardrobe that would be bright, feminine and becoming. They would have happier marriages if they made this small effort just to please their husbands.

The husbands of such women actually see them at their best only once in a while. The picture of their wives that they carry around in their minds is how they look day in and day out—when the wives are thinking it doesn't matter how they look.

If you have been careless about how you look around home, try this experiment. Start paying as much attention to your appearance as you would if you had guests in your home. Dress for those imaginary guests. And then see if your husband doesn't surprise you by paying you an unexpected compliment at the breakfast table or by taking a quick second look at you when he bestows this homecoming kiss in the evening.

3,000 Chemicals Can Foul the Air We Breathe

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M. D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Every 24 hours you breathe in about 15,000 quarts of air, weighing about 10 times as much as the food you put into your stomach in a day. The quality of the air varies greatly with geographic location and weather conditions.

Pollution of this air is a complex problem that has been with us ever since people began burning fires. In the past 20 years many acute reactions have been caused by smog. The intensity of smog sickness depends on its concentration and duration. Perhaps the worst catastrophe due to smog occurred in London in 1952 when about 4,000 persons died of it in a five week period.

Such disasters make a profound impression on the inhabitants of a city and usually result in some type of corrective action. But it is foolhardy to wait for tragedy to strike before applying preventive measures.

According to Surgeon General Luther L. Terry of the U. S. Public Health Service, nearly every community of 2,500 or more inhabitants has an air pollution problem. He was referring not to smog but to invisible pollution. The effects of long-term exposure to the poisons in the air are not easy to evaluate, but there is real evidence that they constitute a real threat to health.

What are these poisons? All of them have not been identified yet, but some of the most prevalent do not come from industry. The action of sunlight on the exhaust gases from our automobiles produce ozone. This and the carbon monoxide, which is also found in exhaust gas, are dangerous poisons.

A farmer who lives near a toll road or expressway may be exposed to more air pollution than a person dwelling in a suburb of a highly industrial city.

Even in cities where the industrial smog problem is great, the burning of leaves by home owners, outdoor trash incinerators, and improperly fired home furnaces account for much of the pollution. These include oxides of sulfur and of nitrogen. In all, about 3,000 different chemicals have been found in the air in various areas.

We don't know the specific effects of all of these substances on the human body. Many of them may be harmless in the quantities found but there is plenty of evidence that many of them are capable of causing serious illness.

The Mature Parent

Teacher Has a Reason

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: One of my 14-year-old's teachers has taken a strong dislike to him. He was tardy twice this term and as she is his home room teacher she is using this as an excuse to make sarcastic remarks to him in history class.

He is afraid to hand in homework or ask her any questions because he never knows what mean answer she will give him.

Answer: Teachers, like us, sometimes need reassurance.

Though children regard them as super-human beings, it's not reasonable for us to share their view. They have problems. People they love fall ill. They have to hold their jobs, please their principals and students' parents as well as impart knowledge about the Civil War. They often are underpaid. They cannot advance in their profession unless they earn new degrees. So they are often as nervous about the kind of job they are doing as the rest of us are. And like the rest of us, they express their worries in irritable behavior.

A home room teacher is responsible for prompt school attendance. If she can't get kids to come to school on time, her bosses want to know why. I suggest that you visit this one to sympathize with her fear that your son is going to be a chronic attendance problem—and relieve her of it.

That a child's teacher may need such reassurance cannot occur to us so long as we feel defensive about her criticism of the child. In her resentment of us, our failure to get him up in time for school.

Are you willing to do your part to get your boy to school on time? If you are, tell her so. And take your share of responsibility to get him to school on time.

If you are not willing to take it, stop pretending to. Put the responsibility on him. When he complains about his teacher's resentful remarks, shrug instead of sympathizing. Say, "You're getting these cracks because Miss Holmes is afraid you're going to be tardy a lot this term. If you don't intend to be, tell her so—and prove that you mean it."

Polly's Pointers

Paste Comes in Mail

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—At times we all remove uncancelled stamps from envelopes. To use them again, moisten the gummed part of an unsealed envelope (many of which come to us through the mail), slide the stamp over it and, presto, you can apply it to your envelope. I always keep two threaded needles on my bureau pin cushion, one with white and one with black thread, emergencies which may occur when dressing in a hurry.—L. M. S.

DEAR POLLY—As favors for a baby shower, fold white napkins like three-cornered diapers and fasten with tiny gold safety pins. Put small cups in the centers and fill with baby chocolate candies.—MRS. T. S. P.

GIRLS—Use a folded paper napkin and the guests can take the favors home with them.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—Here is a great time and temper saver if you have a nervous window shade. When a shade "pops" up to the top, where it's hard to reach, I use a wire coat hanger which is pulled out straight except for the hook to pull down the shades.—MRS. B. C.

DEAR POLLY—I hang a mesh bag (the kind potatoes come in) on a hook by an outside door. It holds children's baseballs, footballs, rubber balls. They know where to find them and can always return them to the bag on their way into the house.—MRS. G. P.

DEAR POLLY—This is the time of year to start collecting pop bottle caps to make Christmas decorations. I glue 19 caps, cork sides up, into the shape of a Christmas tree on a cardboard. After the glue is dry, I spray paint them silver, gold or green and then let stand overnight. I buy a package of those assorted, peanut-sized colored beads the dime stores have at Christmas time and glue one bead in each cap. After the beads dry, cut out the cardboard around the caps, roll masking tape on your fingers and press on the back of the cardboard. I use these in the house for decorations.—MRS. W. L. M.

GIRLS—Christmas may seem quite a long time off to some of you but those who make decorations for their own homes or for bazaars know it is time to get started. I would like Mrs. W. L. M.'s idea used on heavy cardboard for use on the outside of a front door. It could be mounted on a wreath of greens.—POLLY

Democrat Pick-ups

The Small Girl was watching her grandmother make table decorations from the hedge balls she had painted gold.

"What are you going to do with those?" the child wanted to know.

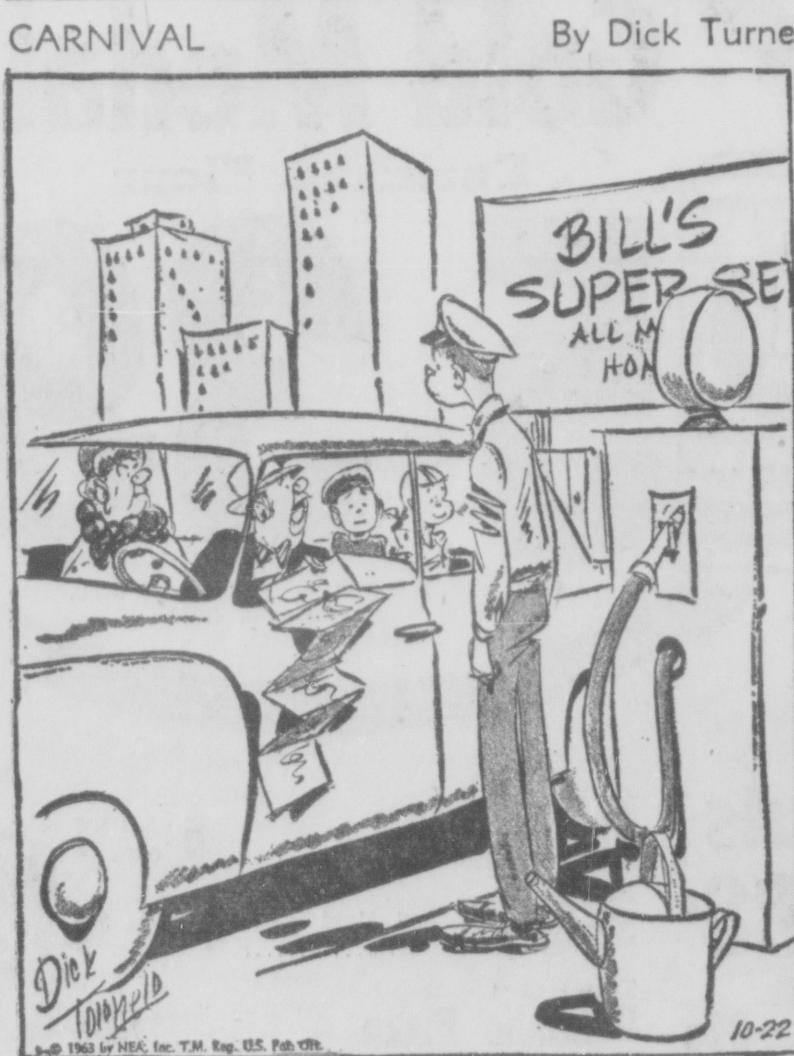

"I'm making decorations for the DAR luncheon," grandmother told her.

"I'd like to have one," the youngster said wistfully.

"I'll give you one after the luncheon," her grandmother said.

"Will you really give me one?" she wanted to know. And was told she could have one right after the luncheon.

She went along and played for awhile and then she came back to her grandmother. "Grandmother," she wanted to know, "are you sure I can have one after your DAM luncheon?" — H. L.

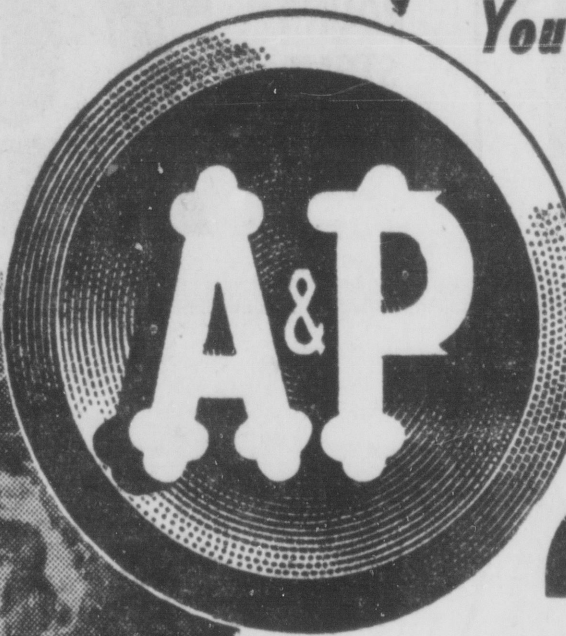

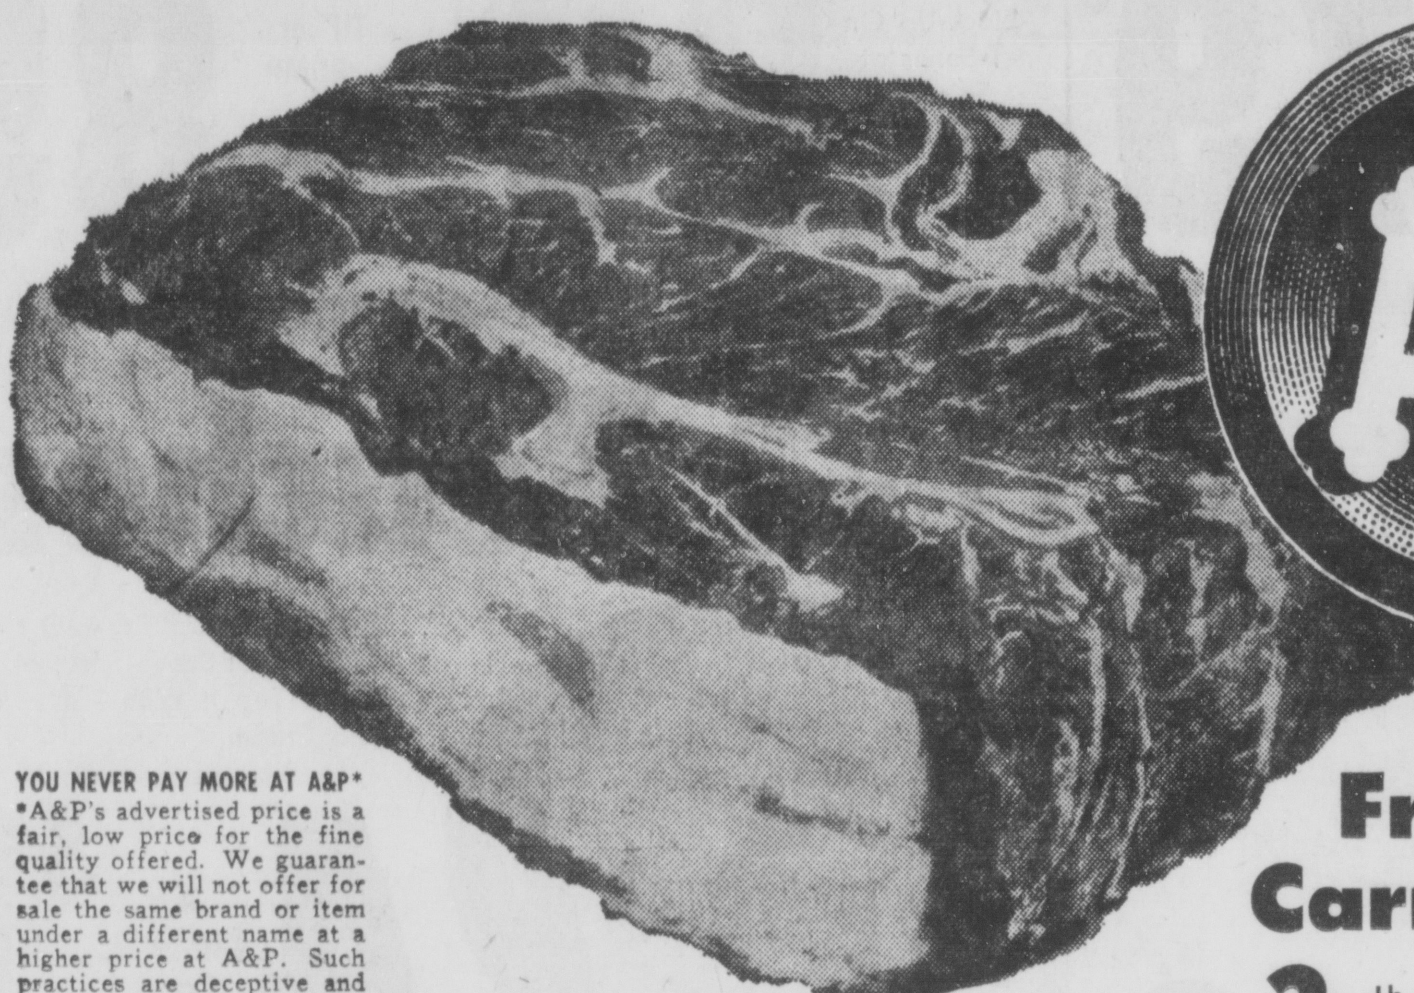

"Fill up the gas tank, the radiator, and refold this map!"
